

THE
ERASED EMPIRE
RECLAIMING THE TRUE HISTORY of TARTARIA &
the Old World Order

Uncovering the Lost Civilizations and Forbidden Knowledge of Our Ancestors

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

Table of Contents

Introduction: The Matrix – A Scriptural & Prophetic Framework

1. The World That Feels Wrong
2. What “Matrix” Really Means
3. The Three Layers of the Matrix
4. Why This Matters Now
5. Prayer at the End of Chapter 1

Chapter 2: The Name “Tartaria” on Historical Maps

1. The Maps That Speak
2. What the Maps Actually Show
3. Mainstream Academic Explanation
4. The Alternative View
5. A Biblical Lens
6. Questions for the Reader
7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 2

Chapter 3: Mud-Flood / Liquefaction Evidence

1. The Buried Buildings
2. Primary Photographic Evidence
3. Mainstream Explanation
4. The Alternative View
5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context
6. Questions for the Reader
7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 3

Chapter 4: Star Forts & Advanced Geometry

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

- 1. The Star-Shaped Enigmas
- 2. Mainstream Historical Explanation
- 3. The Alternative View
- 4. Possible Functions Beyond Defense
- 5. Scriptural & Prophetic Lens
- 6. Questions for the Reader
- 7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 4

Chapter 5: “Empty” 19th-Century Cities in Photographs

- 1. The Silent Streets
- 2. Primary Photographic Evidence
- 3. Mainstream Explanation
- 4. The Alternative View
- 5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context
- 6. Questions for the Reader
- 7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 5

Chapter 6: World Fairs & “Temporary” Buildings

- 1. The Grand “Temporary” Cities
- 2. Primary Photographic & Documentary Evidence
- 3. Mainstream Explanation
- 4. The Alternative View
- 5. Scriptural & Prophetic Lens
- 6. Questions for the Reader
- 7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 6

Chapter 7: Free-Energy & Atmospheric Technology Claims

- 1. The Forgotten Energy

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

2. Key Historical Evidence
3. Mainstream Explanation
4. The Alternative View
5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context
6. Questions for the Reader
7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 7

Chapter 8: Reset Events 1800–1870

1. The Cluster of Catastrophes
2. Key Reset Events (Timeline)
3. Mainstream Explanation
4. The Alternative View
5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context
6. Questions for the Reader
7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 8

Chapter 9: Orphan Trains & Population Replacement

1. The Forgotten Children
2. Primary Documentary & Photographic Evidence
3. Mainstream Historical Explanation
4. The Alternative View
5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context
6. Questions for the Reader
7. Prayer at the End of Chapter 9

Chapter 10: Scriptural & Prophetic Parallels

1. The Bible's Long Memory
2. Pre-Flood World – The First “Reset”

3. Babel – The Second Centralized Rebellion
4. Egypt, Babylon, Rome – Counterfeit Kingdoms
5. End-Times Strong Delusion
6. The Remnant's Call – Remember & Proclaim
7. The Final Victory – The Morning Star Rises
8. Prayer at the End of Chapter 10

Chapter 11: Counter-Arguments & Intellectual Honesty

1. The Duty of Discernment
2. Counter-Argument 1: “Tartaria” Was Just a Vague European Label
3. Counter-Argument 2: Buried Buildings = Street-Raising Projects
4. Counter-Argument 3: Star Forts Were Purely Military
5. Counter-Argument 4: World Fairs Were Truly Temporary
6. Counter-Argument 5: Orphan Trains Were Pure Charity
7. The Call to Intellectual Honesty
8. Prayer at the End of Chapter 11

Chapter 12: What the Remnant Should Do Now

1. The Hour Is Late
2. Remember the Former Things
3. Love the Truth
4. Come Out of Her
5. Pray Without Ceasing
6. Worship the Lamb Alone
7. Stand Firm Until the End
8. Look for His Coming
9. Closing Prayer & Call to the Remnant

Appendices

- A. Recommended Primary Sources & Archives
- B. Key Scripture References by Theme
- C. Quick Reference Timeline (1800–1870 Resets)
- D. Final Call to the Remnant
- E. Quick Reference – 12 Core Scriptures for the Remnant
- F. Publishing & Distribution Note
- G. Extra Appendix: Tartaria Historical Maps Gallery

- High-resolution scans & links to key maps (1570–1850)
- Ortelius (1570), Mercator/Hondius (1606–1630), Speed (1627), Sanson (1656), Delisle (1706), Moll (1719), Bowen (1748), Bonne (1787–1788)
- Notes on cartographic labeling, subdivisions, and sudden disappearance post-1850

Bibliography

- Primary Sources & Maps
- Secondary Sources & Research
- Scriptural & Theological

Introduction: The Matrix – A Scriptural & Prophetic Framework

Opening Verse “The god of this age has blinded the minds of the unbelieving, that the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should not dawn upon them.” (2 Corinthians 4:4)

1. The World That Feels Wrong Have you ever felt it? That strange, persistent sense that something is deeply off — as if the world we live in is not quite real, not quite what it pretends to be. The news cycles that repeat the same scripts, the technologies that seem to know our thoughts before we speak them, the history books that feel strangely incomplete, the buildings that look impossibly grand for the supposed timeline, the sudden resets of entire societies, the orphan trains, the buried floors, the star forts, the “temporary” world-fair cities that vanished overnight.

It is not paranoia. It is discernment.

The Bible never tells us the world is neutral. It tells us the world is under a ruler — “the prince of the power of the air” (Ephesians 2:2), “the god of this world” (2 Corinthians 4:4), “the ruler of this world” (John 12:31). And that ruler is not passive. He is active, organized, deceptive. He has a system. A matrix.

2. What “Matrix” Really Means The word itself comes from Latin māter (mother, source) and matrix (womb, breeding female, mold). In modern usage, it refers to a structured environment that generates and controls reality — a womb that births illusion, a mold that shapes perception.

The Bible does not use the word “matrix,” but it describes the reality perfectly:

- A lie so pervasive that people believe it willingly (2 Thessalonians 2:11).
- A blindness so deep that even light cannot penetrate unless God opens eyes (2 Corinthians 4:4).
- A system so complete that the whole world lies in its power (1 John 5:19).
- A deception so subtle that even the elect could be misled if possible (Matthew 24:24).

This is not science fiction. This is spiritual reality.

3. The Three Layers of the Matrix We will explore these layers throughout the book, but here is the framework:

- Layer 1 – The Visible Matrix The everyday illusion: consumerism, media, education, entertainment, politics, technology. Purpose: keep souls distracted, self-focused, and dependent on the system. Scripture: “Do not love the world or the things in the world... For all that is in the world... is not from the Father” (1 John 2:15–16).

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

- Layer 2 – The Hidden Matrix The spiritual architecture: principalities, powers, rulers of darkness, spiritual forces of wickedness (Ephesians 6:12). False religions, occult bloodlines, mystery schools, secret societies. Purpose: blind minds to the gospel and counterfeit God’s order. Scripture: “Our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against... spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places” (Ephesians 6:12).
- Layer 3 – The Core Lie The original deception in Eden: “You will be like God, knowing good and evil” (Genesis 3:5). The promise of autonomy, self-deification, independence from the Creator. Purpose: make humanity believe they can rule themselves without God. Scripture: “The serpent deceived Eve by his craftiness” (2 Corinthians 11:3).

4. Why This Matters Now We are living in the hour when the delusion is reaching its climax (2 Thessalonians 2:9–12). The matrix is no longer subtle. It is overt, aggressive, all-encompassing. Yet at the same moment, the remnant is awakening. Eyes are opening. Hearts are crying out for truth.

This book is not about fear. It is about freedom. Jesus said: “You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free.” (John 8:32)

The matrix is real. But it is not invincible. Christ already defeated it on the cross (Colossians 2:15). The Morning Star has risen (Revelation 22:16). The day is dawning.

Prayer at the End of Chapter 1

Lord Jesus Christ, the Truth and the Light, open our eyes to see the matrix for what it is. Break every chain of deception. Let us love the truth with all our hearts. Protect us from the strong delusion. Come quickly, Bright Morning Star.

ஆழைமன்.

Chapter 2: The Name “Tartaria” on Historical Maps

Opening Verse “Remember the former things of old; For I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is no one like Me.” (Isaiah 46:9)

1. The Maps That Speak If you open almost any atlas or collection of historical maps printed between the 1500s and the mid-1800s, you will find a vast region labeled Tartaria, Grand Tartary, Great Tartary, Independent Tartary, or simply Tartary. It stretches across most of Central Asia, Siberia, parts of China, Mongolia, and sometimes even into Eastern Europe — an area larger than all of Europe combined.

This was not a tiny, obscure label. It appeared consistently on maps by the most respected cartographers of the age:

- Abraham Ortelius (1570) – Theatrum Orbis Terrarum
- Gerard Mercator (1630s editions)
- John Speed (1627)
- Nicolas Sanson (1650s)
- Guillaume Delisle (1706)
- Herman Moll (1710s)
- Johann Baptist Homann (1720s–1740s)
- Emanuel Bowen (1740s–1760s)
- Rigobert Bonne (1770s–1780s)
- ...and many others up to the 1850s.

The name was not hidden in footnotes. It was printed boldly, often covering more space than “China” or “Russia” on the same map.

2. What the Maps Actually Show

- Size & Scope Grand Tartary frequently occupies 1/3 to 1/2 of the Asian landmass — from the Caspian Sea to the Pacific, from the Arctic to northern India/China.
- Subdivisions Many maps divide it into:
  - Muscovite Tartary (western/Siberian)
  - Chinese Tartary (Manchuria, Mongolia)

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

- Independent Tartary (central, often labeled “Great” or “Independent”)
- Little Tartary (Crimea/Khazar region)
- Cities & Capitals Some maps mark major cities inside Tartary: Tobolsk, Samarkand, Bukhara, Karakorum, Khanbalik (Beijing area), and others — implying organized governance.
- Borders The borders are not vague; they are drawn with precision — rivers, mountains, and latitude lines — as clearly as European nations.

3. Mainstream Academic Explanation Historians and cartographic scholars generally say: “Tartary” was a blanket European term for vast, poorly understood regions inhabited by nomadic Turkic, Mongol, and Tungusic peoples. It was never a unified empire — just a convenient label (like “Scythia” in ancient times or “Orient” later). As European knowledge improved (especially after Russian expansion and Jesuit missions), the label was gradually replaced by more accurate names (Siberia, Mongolia, Manchuria, etc.) by the late 1800s.

4. The Alternative View – What the Maps May Actually Indicate Many researchers who have studied the primary maps in high resolution argue the following points (which deserve honest consideration):

- Consistency across centuries The label “Tartary” appears on hundreds of maps over ~300 years (1500–1850) with remarkable stability in size and location — unusual for a mere “vague term.”
- “Independent” & “Great” descriptors Why repeatedly call it “Independent Tartary” or “Great Tartary” if it was just scattered nomads? These adjectives suggest sovereignty and scale.
- Detailed internal geography Cities, rivers, mountains, and borders are drawn with precision — more detailed than many parts of Europe or Africa on the same maps.
- Sudden disappearance After ~1850–1870, the name almost completely vanishes from new maps and textbooks — coinciding with major geopolitical shifts (Crimean War, British/Russian expansion in Asia, rise of modern nation-states, standardization of history curricula).

5. A Biblical Lens The Bible does not mention “Tartary,” but it speaks clearly about:

- Post-flood dispersion of nations (Genesis 10–11)
- Empires that rise and fall under God’s sovereignty (Daniel 2, 7)

- Deception and forgetting of God's works (Psalm 106:21, Jeremiah 18:15)
- A coming time when hidden things are revealed (Luke 8:17, 12:2–3)

If an advanced pre-reset civilization existed, the Bible would frame it as part of the “kingdoms of this world” — temporary, under judgment, yet used by God to accomplish His purposes.

6. Questions for the Reader

- Why did hundreds of maps for 300 years show a massive, named region that suddenly vanished?
- Is it possible that what we call “history” has gaps intentionally left unfilled?
- What does Scripture say about remembering God’s mighty acts — and what happens when nations forget?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 2

Lord Jesus Christ, the Truth who sets us free, open our eyes to see what has been hidden. Let us love maps, records, and history only as they point to You. Guard us from deception and from chasing shadows. Reveal what is true, and let us stand in Your light alone.

ஆழைமன்.

Chapter 3: Mud-Flood / Liquefaction Evidence

Opening Verse “For the pillars of the earth are the Lord’s, and He has set the world upon them.”
(1 Samuel 2:8)

1. The Buried Buildings Look closely at photographs from the mid-to-late 19th century and early 20th century — especially in cities like Chicago, Seattle, St. Petersburg, Paris, London, Buenos Aires, and countless others. You will see something strange: Many grand buildings have their first floors (or more) buried below current street level. Doors, windows, arches, and ornate facades are half-underground, sometimes completely submerged. Basement windows become street-level windows. Staircases lead down to what were once ground-floor entrances.

This is not isolated. It is global and systematic.

2. Primary Photographic Evidence Here are some of the most striking examples (all public-domain photographs):

- Chicago, USA (1870s–1900s) After the “Great Fire” of 1871, photos show entire blocks with buildings sunk several feet. Streets were raised — but many structures appear to have been already partially buried.
- Seattle, USA (1880s–1900s) Famous “underground Seattle” tours show original street level 10–30 feet below current pavement. Photos of Pioneer Square before and after “regrading” reveal buried storefronts and sidewalks.
- St. Petersburg, Russia 19th-century images of palaces and cathedrals show lower levels with windows and doors below ground. The city is built on swamp — but the pattern is consistent worldwide.
- Paris, France Haussmann’s renovation (1850s–1870s) raised many streets, but photos show older buildings with buried façades.
- Buenos Aires, Argentina Early 20th-century photos of Avenida de Mayo show buildings with multiple buried floors.
- Global Pattern Similar evidence in London, Edinburgh, Melbourne, Shanghai, Toronto, Salt Lake City, and smaller towns.

3. Mainstream Explanation Historians and city planners say:

- Street-raising projects for sewage, flood control, and modern infrastructure.

- Natural sedimentation in river/delta cities.
- Construction on fill in low-lying areas.

These explanations are partially true in many cases — cities did raise streets in the 19th century.

4. The Alternative View – A Global Liquefaction Event? Researchers point to patterns that are harder to explain with local street-raising alone:

- Uniform depth — many cities show 8–15 feet of consistent “fill” across wide areas.
- Buried architecture intact — ornate doors, windows, and basements preserved below ground, not demolished.
- Timing cluster — most evidence appears between 1850–1910, coinciding with major earthquakes, fires, and “regrading” projects worldwide.
- No contemporary records of massive excavation/demolition for such widespread raising.
- Mud-like fill — often described as “hydraulic fill” or “liquefied soil” in period documents.

Some propose a global catastrophic liquefaction event (or series of events) around 1800–1850 — possibly tied to solar micronova, pole shift, or directed energy. Buildings sank into softened ground, then were “raised” by adding fill on top.

5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context The Bible speaks of the earth being shaken in judgment:

- “The foundations of the earth are shaken” (Isaiah 24:18–20)
- “The earth is violently broken... the earth is shaken exceedingly” (Isaiah 24:19)
- “I will shake the heavens and the earth” (Haggai 2:6, Hebrews 12:26)

Whether natural, man-made, or divine judgment — the physical evidence aligns with a world that has been reset and re-written.

6. Questions for the Reader

- Why do so many cities worldwide show the same buried architecture pattern in the same era?
- Is it possible that a global event was covered by local “street-raising” stories?
- What does it mean if history has been edited on this scale?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 3

Lord Jesus Christ, the Foundation that cannot be shaken, reveal what has been hidden. Let the earth declare Your truth. Keep us standing on the Rock when all else sinks. Come quickly, unshakable King.

ஆழைமன்.

Chapter 4: Star Forts & Advanced Geometry

Opening Verse “The Lord is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer; My God, my rock, in whom I take refuge; My shield and the horn of my salvation, my stronghold.” (Psalm 18:2)

1. The Star-Shaped Enigmas If you look at satellite images, old military maps, or even walk the grounds of certain historic sites around the world, you will see them: massive, symmetrical, geometric fortifications shaped like stars. They are called star forts, bastion forts, or trace italienne in official history books. But their scale, precision, and global distribution raise questions that the standard narrative does not fully answer.

These structures exist on every inhabited continent:

- Europe (Netherlands, Portugal, Italy, France, UK, Germany, Russia)
- North America (Quebec City, St. Augustine, Fort McHenry, Fort Niagara)
- South America (Valdivia, Cartagena, Buenos Aires)
- Asia (Batur, Galle, Manila)
- Africa (Elmina, Cape Town, Luanda)
- Australia (Sydney, Port Arthur)

Thousands of them. Many built (or “rebuilt”) in the 16th–19th centuries. All sharing the same distinctive star shape with sharp angles, multiple layers of walls, and often surrounded by moats or earthworks.

2. Mainstream Historical Explanation Textbooks and military historians give a straightforward answer: Star forts were a European military innovation developed in the 15th–16th centuries in response to gunpowder artillery. The angled bastions were designed to:

- Deflect cannonballs
- Create overlapping fields of fire
- Eliminate blind spots

- Allow defenders to cross-fire on attackers

The design spread during the Renaissance (Italy → France → Netherlands → rest of Europe) and was adopted worldwide during colonial expansion.

This explanation is technically accurate for the period 1500–1800.

3. The Alternative View – Older Origins & Advanced Purpose? Researchers who have studied the forts in detail point to several anomalies:

- Pre-1492 examples Some star-like earthworks appear on maps and in archaeological sites dated before Columbus (e.g., certain Native American mound complexes, pre-Columbian South American sites). Were Europeans “rediscovering” older designs?
- Precision beyond 16th-century tech Many forts have angles accurate to fractions of a degree, earthworks perfectly leveled, and symmetry that would require advanced surveying tools. Were they built (or rebuilt) using lost knowledge?
- Non-military locations Some star forts are in places with no strategic value (inland, no harbors, no enemy threat). Were they ceremonial, energetic, or geomantic?
- Size & scale Some forts are enormous — walls 30–50 feet thick, moats hundreds of feet wide — far beyond what was needed to defend against 16th-century cannons.
- Global uniformity The same basic design appears worldwide within a short time window — suggesting either rapid diffusion or a pre-existing template.

4. Possible Functions Beyond Defense Alternative researchers propose:

- Geomantic / energetic — aligned to ley lines, sacred geometry, or atmospheric electricity.
- Resonant — star shapes may have amplified sound, vibration, or subtle energies (similar to cymatics patterns).
- Symbolic — representing cosmic order or hidden knowledge (octagram, hexagram influences).
- Protective — against floods, liquefaction, or even spiritual forces.

5. Scriptural & Prophetic Lens The Bible speaks of strongholds — both physical and spiritual:

- “The name of the Lord is a strong tower; the righteous runs into it and is safe.” (Proverbs 18:10)

- “We are destroying speculations and every lofty thing raised up against the knowledge of God.” (2 Corinthians 10:5)

If star forts were part of an older world order, they may represent humanity’s attempt to build its own “strong towers” — physical and spiritual — apart from God. Yet the true fortress is the Lord Himself.

6. Questions for the Reader

- Were star forts purely military, or did they serve a deeper purpose?
- How did the same design appear globally so quickly?
- What does it mean if advanced knowledge was lost — or deliberately suppressed?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 4

Lord Jesus Christ, our true Fortress and Strong Tower, protect us from every false stronghold. Reveal any hidden knowledge that exalts itself against You. Let us run only to Your name for safety. Come quickly, unshakable Rock.

ஆழைன்.

Chapter 5: “Empty” 19th-Century Cities in Photographs

Opening Verse “For nothing is hidden that will not become evident, nor anything secret that will not be known and come to light.” (Luke 8:17)

1. The Silent Streets Open almost any photograph collection from the 1850s to the early 1900s — especially from major cities — and you will notice something unsettling: The streets are eerily empty. Grand boulevards lined with magnificent buildings — palaces, cathedrals, opera houses, capitols, banks — stand in perfect condition, yet almost no people are visible. No crowds, no carriages, no vendors, no children playing. Sometimes a single horse-drawn cart or a few lonely figures appear, but the vast majority of images show ghost-like, deserted urban landscapes.

This is not a coincidence in a few cities. It is a global pattern across dozens of major population centers during the exact same era.

2. Primary Photographic Evidence Here are some of the most striking examples (all publicly available photographs from the period):

- Chicago, USA (1870s–1890s) Post-1871 fire photos show massive rebuilt structures — elevated railways, multi-story stone buildings — with almost no pedestrians or traffic.
- San Francisco, USA (1850s–1900s) Images of Market Street, Montgomery Street, and the Barbary Coast show ornate buildings standing empty, as if freshly constructed but uninhabited.
- Seattle, USA (1880s–1900s) Pioneer Square and Yesler Way photos show grand brick and stone architecture with buried lower levels and virtually no people.
- St. Petersburg, Russia (1860s–1890s) Nevsky Prospect and palace districts photographed with perfect symmetry and emptiness — only occasional figures or sleds.
- Paris, France (1850s–1870s) Haussmann-era boulevards appear in photos with wide streets and elaborate façades — yet few Parisians.
- Melbourne, Australia (1880s–1900s) Collins Street, Bourke Street, and Flinders Street Station show Victorian grandeur with minimal human presence.
- Buenos Aires, Argentina (1880s–1910s) Avenida de Mayo and Plaza de Mayo photos show European-style buildings standing nearly deserted.
- Smaller cities & global reach Similar emptiness in Lisbon, Edinburgh, Toronto, Salt Lake City, Shanghai, Cape Town, and many others.

3. Mainstream Explanation

Historians and photography experts generally offer these reasons:

- Long exposure times — Early cameras (wet-plate collodion, daguerreotype) required exposures of several seconds to minutes. Moving people blurred out or disappeared entirely.
- Photographic bias — Photographers chose quiet hours (early morning, Sunday) or posed only important buildings.
- Urban planning — Many photos were taken during construction or after fires/regrading when streets were temporarily cleared.

These explanations are partially valid — long exposures did make moving subjects vanish, and photographers did avoid crowds.

4. The Alternative View – A Population Gap?

Researchers who have examined thousands of these images point to anomalies that challenge the standard story:

- Consistency of emptiness Even photos taken at “busy” times (markets, harbors, train stations) show far fewer people than expected for cities supposedly booming in the industrial era.
- Scale mismatch Buildings are often far too grand and numerous for the reported population (e.g., Chicago’s population in 1850 was ~30,000, yet photos show miles of multi-story stone architecture).
- “Orphan train” era overlap 1854–1929 saw ~200,000 children relocated across the US — often to “repopulate” the Midwest after supposed resets.
- Rapid “repopulation” Cities that looked empty in the 1870s–1880s suddenly appear crowded by the 1900s–1910s — as if a new population was moved in.
- Buried levels + emptiness The same cities with buried first floors also show empty streets — suggesting a double reset: physical sinking + demographic replacement.

5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context

The Bible warns of times when truth is suppressed and history is rewritten:

- “They have healed the brokenness of My people superficially, saying, ‘Peace, peace,’ but there is no peace.” (Jeremiah 6:14)
- “Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil; who substitute darkness for light and light for darkness.” (Isaiah 5:20)

- “The coming of the lawless one... with all power and signs and false wonders, and with all the deception of wickedness for those who perish, because they did not receive the love of the truth.” (2 Thessalonians 2:9–10)

If entire populations were replaced or erased, it aligns with end-times deception — a world that “lies in the power of the evil one” (1 John 5:19).

6. Questions for the Reader

- Why do so many 19th-century city photographs show grand architecture with almost no inhabitants?
- Is it possible that official population figures and timelines do not match the physical evidence?
- What does Scripture say about remembering God’s acts — and what happens when nations forget?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 5

Lord Jesus Christ, the Light that exposes every hidden thing, reveal the truth behind the empty cities and buried history. Let us not be deceived by the superficial explanations of man. Open our eyes to see Your hand in every age. Come quickly, and bring the full light of Your kingdom.

ஆழைன்.

Chapter 6: World Fairs & “Temporary” Buildings

Opening Verse “For the wisdom of this world is foolishness before God. For it is written, ‘He is the one who catches the wise in their craftiness.’” (1 Corinthians 3:19)

1. The Grand “Temporary” Cities Between roughly 1870 and 1915, a series of massive international expositions — known as World’s Fairs — were held in cities across Europe and North America. These events were advertised as showcases of industrial progress, national pride, and human achievement. The most striking feature of these fairs: enormous, elaborate buildings constructed in just 1–2 years, often covering hundreds of acres, designed in grand neoclassical, Beaux-Arts, or Greco-Roman styles — and then officially demolished shortly after the fair ended.

The official story: These were “temporary” structures made of staff (a plaster-fiber mix), wood framing, and iron supports — built quickly and cheaply for the event, then torn down to clear the land.

But the photographs and surviving evidence tell a more complicated story.

2. Primary Photographic & Documentary Evidence Some of the most famous fairs and their “temporary” architecture:

- Philadelphia Centennial Exposition (1876) Massive main building (over 20 acres under one roof), Memorial Hall (now part of Fairmount Park), Machinery Hall — all supposedly built in ~2 years.
- Chicago World’s Columbian Exposition (1893) The “White City” — over 200 buildings, Court of Honor, Administration Building, Manufactures Hall (largest building in the world at the time). Built in ~2 years on reclaimed swamp land. Most demolished by 1894–1895 (official reason: fire hazard, cost of maintenance).
- Paris Exposition Universelle (1889 & 1900) Eiffel Tower (permanent), Grand Palais, Petit Palais, various palaces — many “temporary” structures that looked permanent.
- St. Louis Louisiana Purchase Exposition (1904) Over 1,500 buildings, Palaces of Electricity, Machinery, Liberal Arts — most razed within 1–2 years.
- San Francisco Panama-Pacific Exposition (1915) Palace of Fine Arts (rebuilt in concrete later), Tower of Jewels, Court of the Universe — “temporary” but with monumental scale.

3. Mainstream Explanation

Historians and architectural experts state:

- Buildings were made of staff (plaster over wood/iron frames) — cheap, quick to mold, and easy to demolish.
- Designed as short-term attractions — no need for permanence.
- Many were indeed demolished due to fire risk (staff is flammable), high maintenance costs, and land redevelopment.

This explanation holds for many cases — period documents show staff construction and demolition contracts.

4. The Alternative View – Pre-Existing or Too Advanced?

Researchers who have studied the photos and records in detail raise several points:

- Scale & speed mismatch Buildings like the Manufactures Hall in Chicago (1.3 million sq ft) or the Machinery Palace in Paris were among the largest enclosed spaces ever built — supposedly constructed in 18–24 months with 19th-century labor and tools.
- Quality beyond “temporary” Many structures had intricate stone-like detailing, massive domes, colonnades, and statuary that look like permanent masonry — not cheap plaster.
- “Demolition” anomalies Some “temporary” buildings survived or were rebuilt in concrete (e.g., Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco, Memorial Hall in Philadelphia). Why rebuild “staff” structures if they were never meant to last?
- Empty fairgrounds Many photos show the fairs nearly deserted — similar to the “empty cities” pattern in Chapter 5 — even during peak attendance days.
- Pre-fair maps & photos In some cases, old maps or photos show similar grand architecture on the same sites before the fair was announced.

5. Scriptural & Prophetic Lens

The Bible warns of human attempts to build lasting monuments apart from God:

- Tower of Babel (Genesis 11) — centralized rebellion and false unity.
- Nebuchadnezzar’s golden image (Daniel 3) — forced worship of man-made glory.
- The final Babylon (Revelation 18) — a global system of wealth, luxury, and deception that falls suddenly.

If world fairs were showcases of a “reset” civilization’s surviving architecture, they may represent the last gasp of a pre-flood/post-flood knowledge system — paraded before its final erasure.

6. Questions for the Reader

- How were such monumental structures built so quickly with 19th-century technology?
- Why were so many “temporary” buildings demolished so rapidly — and why do some survive?
- Could these fairs have been a way to display (and then hide) remnants of an older world?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 6

Lord Jesus Christ, the Cornerstone rejected by builders, expose every false monument and counterfeit glory. Let us not marvel at the works of man, but at Your eternal kingdom. Keep our eyes fixed on You — the true Temple. Come quickly, and bring the New Jerusalem.

ஆழைமன்.

Chapter 7: Free-Energy & Atmospheric Technology Claims

Opening Verse “For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.” (Habakkuk 2:14)

1. The Forgotten Energy Throughout the 19th century — and even into the early 20th century — inventors, engineers, and scientists openly discussed and demonstrated technologies that harvested energy directly from the atmosphere, the earth’s electric field, or the aether (the supposed medium filling space). These were not fringe experiments. They were published in respected journals, patented, demonstrated at world fairs, and sometimes implemented on a small scale before being quietly abandoned or suppressed.

The official history says these ideas were pseudoscience or impractical. But the primary documents — patents, blueprints, photographs, and period articles — tell a different story.

2. Key Historical Evidence Here are some of the most documented examples:

- Nikola Tesla (1890s–1900s)
  - Patents for wireless power transmission (e.g., US Patent 645,576 – “System of Transmission of Electrical Energy”)
  - Wardenclyffe Tower (1901–1917) — designed to transmit free energy globally using the earth’s ionosphere as a conductor
  - Statements: “Electric power is everywhere present in unlimited quantities and can drive the world’s machinery without the need of coal, oil, gas, or any other fuel.”
- Atmospheric Electricity Collectors
  - Lord Kelvin (William Thomson) — 1867 experiments collecting electricity from the air with kites and wires
  - Hermann Plauson — 1920s patents for converting atmospheric static electricity into usable power
  - Nathan Stubblefield — 1902 wireless telephone and earth-battery demonstrations
- Obelisks, Cathedrals & Domes as Collectors?
  - Many 19th-century capitol domes, cathedrals, and obelisks have lightning rods, spires, and metallic crosses that look like antennas.

- Alternative view: these structures may have been designed to harvest atmospheric electricity (similar to Tesla's coils).
- World Fairs & Demonstrations
  - Chicago 1893: Tesla's AC power lit the fair wirelessly
  - St. Louis 1904: Demonstrations of "radiant energy" devices
  - Many "temporary" buildings had massive copper domes and spires — possibly functional collectors.

3. Mainstream Explanation Historians and scientists say:

- Tesla's ideas were impractical at scale (energy loss, inefficiency).
- Atmospheric electricity is too weak and inconsistent for commercial use.
- Most patents were never developed because they violated the laws of thermodynamics or were economically unviable.

These explanations are partially true — modern physics shows significant challenges in scaling atmospheric energy.

4. The Alternative View – Suppressed Technology? Researchers who have examined the patents and period documents argue:

- Feasibility demonstrated Tesla lit 200 bulbs wirelessly at Colorado Springs (1899). Plauson claimed to power homes from antennas in the 1920s.
- Sudden abandonment After 1910–1920, free-energy research largely disappeared from mainstream journals — coinciding with the rise of centralized power grids (Edison, Westinghouse, Rockefeller oil interests).
- Architectural anomalies Why do so many 19th-century public buildings have copper domes, spires, and lightning rods that look like Tesla coils? Were they built to collect energy before the grid took over?
- Suppression theories J.P. Morgan withdrew funding from Wardenclyffe because "free energy" threatened profitable utilities. Similar stories surround other inventors (Moray, Gray, Hendershot).

5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context The Bible warns of knowledge increasing in the last days (Daniel 12:4) — but also of deception and counterfeit power:

- “The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders.” (2 Thessalonians 2:9)
- “They exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator.” (Romans 1:25)

If free-energy technology was real and suppressed, it may represent a stolen aspect of pre-flood or pre-reset knowledge (Genesis 4:22 – Tubal-Cain, forger of bronze and iron). The true source of power is God alone — not man’s devices.

6. Questions for the Reader

- Were 19th-century inventors demonstrating real atmospheric energy — or just impractical experiments?
- Why did so much of this research vanish after 1920?
- What does Scripture say about human attempts to harness creation apart from the Creator?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 7

Lord Jesus Christ, the Power of God and the Wisdom of God, forgive us for seeking energy apart from You. You alone are the true Light and Life. Expose every counterfeit power. Let us rely only on Your Spirit and Your Word. Come quickly, and bring the eternal light that needs no invention.

ஆழைன்.

Chapter 8: Reset Events 1800–1870

Opening Verse “Behold, the Lord is coming with many thousands of His holy ones, to execute judgment upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their ungodly deeds which they have done in an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him.” (Jude 1:14–15)

1. The Cluster of Catastrophes Between approximately 1800 and 1870, the world experienced an unusual concentration of large-scale destructive events — fires, earthquakes, wars, floods, and unexplained urban “resets.” Official history treats these as unrelated coincidences or consequences of industrialization and colonial expansion. But when viewed together, the pattern is striking:

- Major cities burned or flooded
- Entire regions repopulated or rebuilt
- Old maps and records disappeared or rewritten
- Populations shifted dramatically

This chapter does not claim a single global event caused all of them. It simply presents the timeline and lets the evidence speak.

2. Key Reset Events (1800–1870 Timeline)

- 1811–1812 New Madrid Earthquakes (USA) Magnitude ~7.5–8.0 series; Mississippi River ran backward; entire towns sank or were flooded; church bells rang in Boston. Official: natural tectonic activity. Alternative: part of global crustal instability.
- 1812 War & Burning of Washington D.C. (1814) British burned the White House, Capitol, and Library of Congress. Many early American records lost.
- 1815 Tambora Eruption (Indonesia) “Year Without a Summer” (1816) — global cooling, crop failures, famine. Official: volcanic winter. Alternative: compounded by other resets.
- 1830s–1840s Global Cholera Pandemics Killed millions; cities “cleansed” and rebuilt with new infrastructure.
- 1850s–1860s City Regrading & Street Raising Seattle, Chicago, San Francisco, Denver — streets raised 10–30 feet, burying lower levels. Official: sewage/flood control. Alternative: covering liquefaction damage.
- 1860s–1870s Major City Fires

- Chicago Great Fire (1871)
- Boston Fire (1872)
- Peshtigo Fire (1871 – Wisconsin, deadliest in US history)
- Portland Fire (1866)
- Numerous smaller fires worldwide Official: dry weather + wooden buildings.
Alternative: directed-energy or orchestrated resets.
- 1870s–1890s Orphan Trains (USA) ~200,000 children relocated from East Coast cities to Midwest. Official: charity for urban poor. Alternative: repopulating after depopulation events.

3. Mainstream Explanation Historians attribute this era to:

- Industrialization (wooden cities + open flames = fires)
- Natural disasters (earthquakes, volcanoes)
- Urban growth (street-raising for sanitation)
- Immigration & poverty (orphan trains)

These explanations are partially valid — the 19th century was turbulent.

4. The Alternative View – A Deliberate Reset? Researchers who have compiled the timeline argue:

- Unusual clustering Fires, floods, earthquakes, and pandemics hit major cities in a ~70-year window — far beyond statistical coincidence.
- Rebuilding patterns Cities burned → rebuilt with grander architecture almost overnight → streets raised → old levels buried.
- Record loss Many fires destroyed early archives, libraries, and city halls — erasing pre-1850 records.
- Population anomalies Reported populations often do not match the scale of construction or emptiness in photos (Chapter 5).

5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context The Bible speaks of God shaking the nations and resetting human pride:

- “I will shake all the nations” (Haggai 2:7)

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

- “The earth is broken asunder, the earth is split through, the earth is shaken violently” (Isaiah 24:19)
- “The earth reels like a drunkard” (Isaiah 24:20)

Whether natural judgment, human catastrophe, or satanic orchestration — the pattern aligns with end-times shaking before the final day dawns.

6. Questions for the Reader

- Why did so many major cities experience catastrophic “resets” in such a short window?
- Is it possible that history was rewritten after these events?
- What does Scripture say about God shaking the earth — and how should the remnant respond?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 8

Lord Jesus Christ, the One who shakes the heavens and the earth, reveal every reset and every hidden thing. Let us not fear the shaking, but trust in Your unshakable kingdom. Prepare us for the day that dawns without end. Come quickly, and bring Your full glory.

ஆழைமன்.

Chapter 9: Orphan Trains & Population Replacement

Opening Verse “Behold, children are a gift of the Lord, the fruit of the womb is a reward.”
(Psalm 127:3)

1. The Forgotten Children Between 1854 and 1929, approximately 200,000 to 250,000 children — mostly from overcrowded East Coast cities (New York, Boston, Philadelphia) — were loaded onto trains and sent to rural Midwest and Western states. They were called “orphan trains,” “baby trains,” or “mercy trains.” The official story: a charitable effort by organizations like the Children’s Aid Society (founded by Charles Loring Brace) to rescue poor, orphaned, or abandoned urban children from poverty, crime, and disease by placing them with farm families.

The children were lined up at train stations, inspected by prospective parents, and often chosen like livestock — some for labor, some for adoption, many never to see their original families again.

2. Primary Documentary & Photographic Evidence

- Scale Over 75 years, an estimated 1 child in 10 from New York City was relocated. Annual trains carried 1,000–4,000 children.
- Photographs 1880s–1920s images show children in ragged clothes lined up at stations in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Minnesota. Some look healthy; others malnourished or frightened.
- Period Accounts
  - Newspaper ads: “Children without parents for adoption – apply at station.”
  - Placement papers: children signed over with minimal oversight.
- Survivor Stories Many later recalled being separated from siblings, renamed, or treated as indentured servants.

3. Mainstream Historical Explanation Historians and social workers describe the orphan trains as:

- A well-intentioned (if flawed) response to urban poverty and immigration crises.
- Precursor to modern foster care.
- Children were “placed out” to good Christian farm families.

This narrative is partially true — many children found loving homes, and the program was born from genuine concern.

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

4. The Alternative View – Population Replacement? Researchers who have studied the timeline, demographics, and photographs argue the trains served a larger purpose:

- Timing overlap Peak orphan train years (1850s–1880s) coincide with the “mud-flood” and city-regrading era (Chapter 3) and the “empty cities” photographs (Chapter 5).
- Massive scale 200,000+ children moved in an era when official urban orphan populations were much lower — suggesting a depopulation event created a need for repopulation.
- Demographic anomalies Midwest and Western states show sudden population growth in the 1860s–1890s — often without corresponding birth or immigration records matching the increase.
- Lack of oversight Many children were placed with no follow-up; some were renamed or lost family ties — resembling “repopulation” rather than adoption.
- Connection to resets After fires, floods, and liquefaction events, cities needed labor and families. Orphan trains provided both — a new generation with no memory of the old world.

5. Scriptural & Prophetic Context The Bible speaks of children as a blessing and a heritage — but also of times when families are scattered and truth is forgotten:

- “The children of the promise” (Romans 9:8)
- “They will be like orphans in the midst of the nations” (Hosea 8:8)
- “The remnant will return” (Isaiah 10:21)

If populations were replaced after a reset, it aligns with end-times deception — a world that “lies in the power of the evil one” (1 John 5:19) and seeks to erase God’s memory from generation to generation.

6. Questions for the Reader

- Why were so many children relocated in the exact era of major city resets?
- Is it possible that “orphan trains” were part of a larger repopulation effort?
- What does Scripture say about protecting children and remembering God’s acts across generations?

Prayer at the End of Chapter 9 Lord Jesus Christ, Father to the fatherless, protect every child and every remnant generation. Heal the wounds of separation and forgotten heritage. Let us raise the next generation to know You alone. Come quickly, and gather Your children home.

Chapter 10: Scriptural & Prophetic Parallels

Opening Verse “Behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward is with Me, to render to every man according to what he has done.” (Revelation 22:12)

1. The Bible’s Long Memory The Bible does not speak directly of “Tartaria,” “mud floods,” or “orphan trains,” but it speaks repeatedly and clearly about patterns that mirror what we have examined:

- Advanced pre-flood civilization corrupted by fallen angels and violence (Genesis 6)
- Post-flood rebellion centralized at Babel (Genesis 11)
- Cycles of apostasy, judgment, forgetting God’s works, and restoration (Judges, Kings, Prophets)
- End-times strong delusion, memory wipe, and final revelation of truth (2 Thessalonians 2, Revelation 17–18)

This chapter connects the historical evidence from previous chapters to Scripture’s prophetic framework — not to force-fit modern theories into the Bible, but to show how the Bible already describes a world under deception, resets, and ultimate restoration.

2. Pre-Flood World – The First “Reset” Genesis 6:5–7, 11–13 “The Lord saw that the wickedness of man was great on the earth... The earth was corrupt in the sight of God, and the earth was filled with violence.”

- Pre-flood humanity had advanced knowledge (Genesis 4:20–22 – metallurgy, music, livestock).
- Fallen angels (“sons of God”) produced Nephilim (giants) and corrupted flesh.
- God reset the world with the Flood — wiping out corrupted civilization and memory.
- Only Noah’s family preserved truth.

Parallel to Tartaria claims If a high civilization existed and was erased, it fits the biblical pattern of pre-flood corruption followed by divine judgment and repopulation.

3. Babel – The Second Centralized Rebellion Genesis 11:1–9 “Come, let us build for ourselves a city, and a tower whose top will reach into heaven, and let us make for ourselves a name...”

The Erased Empire: Reclaiming the True History of Tartaria & the Old World Order.

- Unified language → centralized power → rebellion against God.
- God confused languages and scattered nations — breaking the matrix of human unity apart from Him.

Parallel Grand Tartary on maps may represent a post-flood attempt at centralized empire/knowledge before national boundaries were solidified.

4. Egypt, Babylon, Rome – Counterfeit Kingdoms

- Egypt: false gods, slavery, sorcery (Exodus 7–12)
- Babylon: mystery religion, astrology, bloodlines (Genesis 10:8–10, Revelation 17–18)
- Rome: emperor worship, persecution (Revelation 13, 17)

Each empire built grand architecture, controlled knowledge, and demanded worship — yet all fell under God's judgment.

Parallel Star forts, buried cities, and world fairs may be remnants of similar counterfeit systems erased or repurposed.

5. End-Times Strong Delusion 2 Thessalonians 2:9–12 “The coming of the lawless one is according to the working of Satan, with all power and signs and false wonders... God will send upon them a deluding influence so that they will believe what is false.”

- A final global deception before Christ's return.
- People will embrace the lie because they “did not receive the love of the truth.”

Parallel If history was deliberately rewritten, it fits the “strong delusion” — a world that forgets God's acts and accepts a false narrative.

6. The Remnant's Call – Remember & Proclaim

- Psalm 78: “That the generation to come might know... that they should put their confidence in God.”
- Isaiah 46:9–10: “Remember the former things long past... My purpose will be established.”
- Revelation 18:4: “Come out of her, my people, so that you will not participate in her sins.”

The remnant's role: remember God's mighty acts, expose deception, and proclaim the true King.

7. The Final Victory – The Morning Star Rises Revelation 22:16 “I, Jesus... am the bright morning star.”

- The matrix will fall.
- The true Light will dawn.
- All things made new (Revelation 21:5).

Prayer at the End of Chapter 10

Lord Jesus Christ, the Bright Morning Star, help us remember Your mighty acts through history. Expose every deception and every lie. Let us come out of the matrix and stand in Your truth. Come quickly, and bring the eternal day.

ஆழைமன்.

Chapter 11: Counter-Arguments & Intellectual Honesty

Opening Verse “Test all things; hold fast what is good.” (1 Thessalonians 5:21)

1. The Duty of Discernment Any serious investigation into hidden history, erased civilizations, or the “Tartaria” phenomenon must be honest with itself. We cannot cherry-pick evidence, ignore strong counter-arguments, or twist facts to fit a preconceived narrative. The Bible commands us to test everything (1 Thessalonians 5:21), to be “wise as serpents and innocent as doves” (Matthew 10:16), and to “prove all things” (1 Thessalonians 5:21 KJV).

This chapter does not defend every alternative claim made in previous chapters. Instead, it presents the strongest mainstream counter-arguments — fairly and without straw-manning — so the reader can weigh them against the evidence.

2. Counter-Argument 1: “Tartaria” Was Just a Vague European Label Mainstream Position

Historians and cartographers say “Tartary” / “Grand Tartary” was never a unified empire. It was a catch-all term Europeans used for vast, poorly explored regions inhabited by various Turkic, Mongol, and nomadic groups. Similar to how ancient Greeks used “Scythia” or medieval Europeans used “Barbary” — not a single state, just a geographic/cultural zone.

Evidence Supporting This View

- Maps often label the area “Tartaria Deserta” (deserted Tartary) or “Tartaria Magna” (great Tartary) — terms implying emptiness or size, not political unity.
- Russian expansion (16th–19th c.) gradually replaced “Tartary” with “Siberia,” “Mongolia,” etc., as surveys improved.
- No surviving Tartarian government documents, currency, or unified legal code exist.

Response & Remaining Questions The label may have been loose — but why was it so persistent and detailed for 300 years? Why “Independent Tartary” on so many maps if it was just nomads? The sudden disappearance after 1850 still lacks a satisfying explanation beyond “better maps.”

3. Counter-Argument 2: Buried Buildings = Street-Raising Projects Mainstream Position Cities raised streets in the 19th century for sewage, flood control, and modern infrastructure (e.g., Chicago’s 1850s–1860s raising by 4–14 feet). Buildings were not “sunk” by mud-flood; streets were simply built higher around them.

Evidence Supporting This View

- City council records in Chicago, Seattle, and San Francisco document deliberate raising projects.
- Engineering reports explain hydraulic fill and cribbing techniques.
- Some buried levels had basements intentionally below grade.

Response & Remaining Questions Street-raising explains many cases — but not all. Why do some cities show uniform 8–15 feet of fill across wide areas with no documented massive projects? Why are ornate doors and windows preserved underground instead of demolished?

4. Counter-Argument 3: Star Forts Were Purely Military Mainstream Position Star forts were a 15th–16th century European response to cannon warfare — angled bastions deflected shots and created cross-fire. The design spread via Italian engineers (trace italienne) during Renaissance wars.

Evidence Supporting This View

- Vauban (France) and other military engineers documented the design's purpose.
- Forts were built during active siege warfare periods.

Response & Remaining Questions The military explanation is strong — but why do some forts exist in non-strategic inland locations? Why the same precise geometry worldwide so quickly?

5. Counter-Argument 4: World Fairs Were Truly Temporary Mainstream Position Fairs used “staff” (plaster-fiber mix) over wood/iron frames — cheap, fast, and meant to be demolished. Many were fire hazards or too expensive to maintain.

Evidence Supporting This View

- Construction contracts and demolition records exist.
- Surviving buildings (e.g., Palace of Fine Arts) were rebuilt in concrete later.

Response & Remaining Questions Staff explains construction — but not the monumental scale or architectural quality. Why rebuild some “temporary” structures if they were never meant to last?

6. Counter-Argument 5: Orphan Trains Were Pure Charity Mainstream Position Orphan trains addressed real urban poverty and immigration crises — children were placed with good families.

Evidence Supporting This View

- Children's Aid Society records show placements and follow-ups.
- Many adoptees later reported positive outcomes.

Response & Remaining Questions Charity was real — but the scale (200,000+) and timing overlap with resets raise questions about repopulation needs.

7. The Call to Intellectual Honesty We must hold both sides accountable:

- Mainstream history sometimes glosses over anomalies (buried floors, empty photos, map labels).
- Alternative theories sometimes overreach (every fort = energy device, every fire = directed energy).

The remnant's path is truth-seeking, not conspiracy-chasing. We test everything against Scripture and primary evidence.

Prayer at the End of Chapter 11

Lord Jesus Christ, the Truth incarnate, guard us from deception and from exaggeration. Let us love the truth with humility and courage. Expose every lie, but keep us anchored in Your Word. Come quickly, and bring the full revelation of Your glory.

ஆழைன்.

Chapter 12: What the Remnant Should Do Now

Opening Verse “Therefore be on the alert, for you do not know which day your Lord is coming... Blessed is that slave whom his master finds so doing when he comes.” (Matthew 24:42, 46)

1. The Hour Is Late We have examined the maps, the buried buildings, the star forts, the empty cities, the world fairs, the free-energy claims, the reset events, the orphan trains, and the scriptural patterns that run parallel. Whether every detail is exactly as the alternative view claims or not, one truth stands unshakable: The world is under deception (1 John 5:19). The love of truth is rare (2 Thessalonians 2:10). The remnant is small — but called to stand.

This final chapter is not about fear or endless research. It is about faithful action in the time that remains.

2. Remember the Former Things Isaiah 46:9–10 “Remember the former things long past, For I am God, and there is no other; I am God, and there is no one like Me, Declaring the end from the beginning...”

- Remember God’s mighty acts — Creation, Flood, Exodus, Resurrection, Pentecost.
- Remember His warnings — deception in the last days, strong delusion, falling away.
- Remember your identity — You are not of the world (John 17:16); you are a citizen of the New Jerusalem (Philippians 3:20).

Action:

- Daily read Scripture — especially prophetic books (Daniel, Revelation, Matthew 24, 2 Thessalonians 2).
- Teach your children and household the true history of God’s faithfulness.

3. Love the Truth 2 Thessalonians 2:10 “...because they did not receive the love of the truth so as to be saved.”

- The matrix thrives on half-truths, distractions, and comfort.
- The antidote is passionate love for truth — even when it costs reputation, relationships, or comfort.

Action:

- Test every narrative against Scripture (Acts 17:11).
- Reject fear-based conspiracy — embrace Christ-centered discernment.

- Speak truth in love (Ephesians 4:15) — gently, boldly, without compromise.

4. Come Out of Her Revelation 18:4 “Come out of her, my people, so that you will not participate in her sins and receive of her plagues.”

- “Her” = Babylon — the final global system of wealth, deception, false religion, immorality.
- Coming out means heart separation — not necessarily physical isolation.

Action:

- Reduce dependence on the system (debt, entertainment, centralized tech).
- Build community with like-minded believers.
- Live simply, generously, and faithfully.

5. Pray Without Ceasing 1 Thessalonians 5:17 “Pray without ceasing.”

- Prayer is the remnant’s greatest weapon (Ephesians 6:18).
- Intercede for nations, leaders, the lost, and the Church.

Action:

- Set aside daily time for prayer and fasting.
- Pray for the Spirit of truth to awaken more eyes.
- Ask for grace to stand when the shaking intensifies.

6. Worship the Lamb Alone Revelation 5:12–13 “Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power and riches and wisdom and might and honor and glory and blessing.”

- The matrix demands worship of self, systems, idols, and false saviors.
- The remnant worships the Lamb — Jesus Christ alone.

Action:

- Sing, dance, praise with harps and instruments (Psalm 150).
- Gather with believers to worship in Spirit and truth (John 4:23–24).
- Make your life a living sacrifice (Romans 12:1).

7. Stand Firm Until the End Matthew 24:13 “But the one who endures to the end, he will be saved.”

- The matrix will intensify — persecution, delusion, signs and wonders.
- The remnant endures by grace, not strength.

Action:

- Fix eyes on Jesus (Hebrews 12:2).
- Encourage one another daily (Hebrews 3:13).
- Hold fast to sound doctrine (2 Timothy 4:3–4).

8. Look for His Coming Titus 2:13 “Looking for the blessed hope and the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior, Christ Jesus.”

- The Morning Star rises in our hearts (2 Peter 1:19).
- The full day dawns when He returns (Revelation 22:20).

Action:

- Live ready — pure, watchful, faithful.
- Proclaim: “Come, Lord Jesus” (Revelation 22:20).

Closing Prayer for the Book

Lord Jesus Christ, Bright Morning Star, thank You for calling us out of darkness into Your marvelous light. Give us love for truth, courage to stand, grace to pray, and joy to worship. Break every matrix chain. Let us endure faithfully until You come. Come quickly, Lord Jesus.

ஆடுமென்.

The End of the Book

Dedication

To the remnant — those who love the truth, who hunger for righteousness, and who wait for the appearing of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ.

May these pages be a small light in the darkness, pointing always to the true Light who has already overcome the world (John 16:33).

To the One who is the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End, the Bright and Morning Star — all glory, honor, and worship belong to You alone, Lord Jesus.

ஆழைமன்.

Acknowledgments

First and foremost, to my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ — without Your grace, mercy, and the leading of Your Holy Spirit, no word in this book would have been written. Thank You for opening eyes, stirring hearts, and giving strength in the hidden places.

To the remnant brothers and sisters — those who have shared research, prayed, encouraged, and stood firm in this hour. Your faithfulness has been a testimony and a comfort.

To the open-source researchers, archivists, and map collectors who preserved primary documents — your work made this examination possible.

To my family and close fellowship — for your patience, prayers, and love while this work took shape.

And to the reader — thank you for seeking truth with an open heart. May the Lord bless you and keep you.

Appendices, Bibliography, and Final Note

Appendices

Appendix A: Recommended Primary Sources & Archives (Online & Public Domain – Accessible as of 2026)

1. Historical Maps

- David Rumsey Map Collection: <https://www.davidrumsey.com> (Search: “Tartary”, “Grand Tartary”, “Tartaria Magna” – 1500–1850)
- Library of Congress Geography & Map Division: <https://www.loc.gov/maps> (Search: “Tartary” or “Tartaria” – high-res scans)

2. Mud-Flood & Buried Buildings

- Flickr Group “Mud Flood” & “Sunken Cities”
- Archive.org – Search “Chicago raised streets 1850s” or “Seattle underground photos”

3. Star Forts

- Wikipedia “Bastion fort” & “Star fort” (for mainstream view)
- Google Earth / satellite view: Search “star fort” + location (e.g., Naarden, Netherlands; Fort McHenry, USA)

4. World Fairs

- Library of Congress Prints & Photographs: <https://www.loc.gov/pictures> (Search: “World’s Columbian Exposition 1893”, “Chicago 1893”)
- Archive.org – “World’s Fair” collections

5. Orphan Trains

- National Orphan Train Complex: <https://orphantraindepot.org>
- Library of Congress: Search “orphan train” photographs

6. Free-Energy & Tesla

- Tesla patents at USPTO.gov or Google Patents
- Archive.org – Tesla lectures & articles (1890s–1900s)

Appendix B: Key Scripture References by Theme

- Deception & Delusion: 2 Thessalonians 2:9–12; 2 Corinthians 4:4; Revelation 12:9
- Shaking & Resets: Isaiah 24:18–20; Haggai 2:6–7; Hebrews 12:26–27
- Remembrance: Psalm 78:1–8; Isaiah 46:9–10
- Idols & False Worship: Isaiah 44:9–20; Psalm 115:4–8; Jeremiah 10:1–16
- Victory & Worship: Revelation 5:12–13; Psalm 150; Exodus 15:20–21
- Final Day: Revelation 21:1–5, 22:5; 2 Peter 1:19

Appendix C: Quick Reference Timeline (1800–1870 Resets)

- 1811–1812: New Madrid Earthquakes
- 1814: Burning of Washington D.C.
- 1815: Tambora Eruption (“Year Without a Summer”)
- 1830s–1840s: Global Cholera Pandemics
- 1850s–1860s: City regrading (Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco)
- 1860s–1870s: Major fires (Chicago 1871, Peshtigo 1871, Boston 1872)
- 1854–1929: Orphan Trains peak

Appendix D: Final Call to the Remnant (Short exhortation to close the book)

Beloved, as you finish these pages, remember:

- The matrix is real, but Christ has overcome it.
- History may be erased or rewritten, but God's Word endures forever (Isaiah 40:8).
- The remnant is small, but God uses the weak to shame the strong (1 Corinthians 1:27).
- Your task is simple: love the truth, worship the Lamb, pray without ceasing, and look for His coming.

Revelation 22:20 "He who testifies to these things says, 'Yes, I am coming quickly.' Amen. Come, Lord Jesus."

Appendix E: Quick Reference – 12 Core Scriptures for the Remnant (Print-friendly list for daily meditation)

1. 2 Corinthians 4:4 — Blinding of minds by the god of this age
2. 1 John 5:19 — The whole world lies in the power of the evil one
3. Ephesians 6:12 — Wrestling against principalities and powers
4. 2 Thessalonians 2:9–12 — Strong delusion in the last days
5. John 8:32 — The truth will set you free
6. Revelation 18:4 — Come out of her, My people
7. Daniel 12:4 — Knowledge will increase in the last days
8. Matthew 24:24 — Deception so great it could deceive the elect
9. Isaiah 24:19–20 — The earth reels like a drunkard
10. Haggai 2:6–7 — I will shake the heavens and the earth
11. Revelation 21:5 — Behold, I make all things new
12. Revelation 22:16 — I am the bright morning star

Appendix F: Publishing & Distribution Note

This book is offered freely under Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC-BY 4.0). You are encouraged to share, print, and distribute it — as long as the author (Remnant, Tamil Intercessor) is credited and no commercial use is made without permission. All royalties or proceeds (if any) will support the remnant work in Christ's name.

G. Extra Appendix: Tartaria Historical Maps and other Cultural Gallery

- High-resolution scans & links to key maps (1570–1850)
- Ortelius (1570), Mercator/Hondius (1606–1630), Speed (1627), Sanson (1656), Delisle (1706), Moll (1719), Bowen (1748), Bonne (1787–1788)
- Notes on cartographic labeling, subdivisions, and sudden disappearance post-1850
- Other images

INDEPENDENT TARTARY.

TARTARII ON A JOURNEY

THE BRIDE CHASE,
MARRIAGE CUSTOM OF THE TARTARS.

第10章

SCALE

Longitude East from Greenwich

I.
CARTE
DE
L'ASIE

GRANDE TARTARIE

Moscou

NEW MAP
OF CHINESE INDEPENDENT
TARTARY.
From the Latest Information of the Great Empire
and

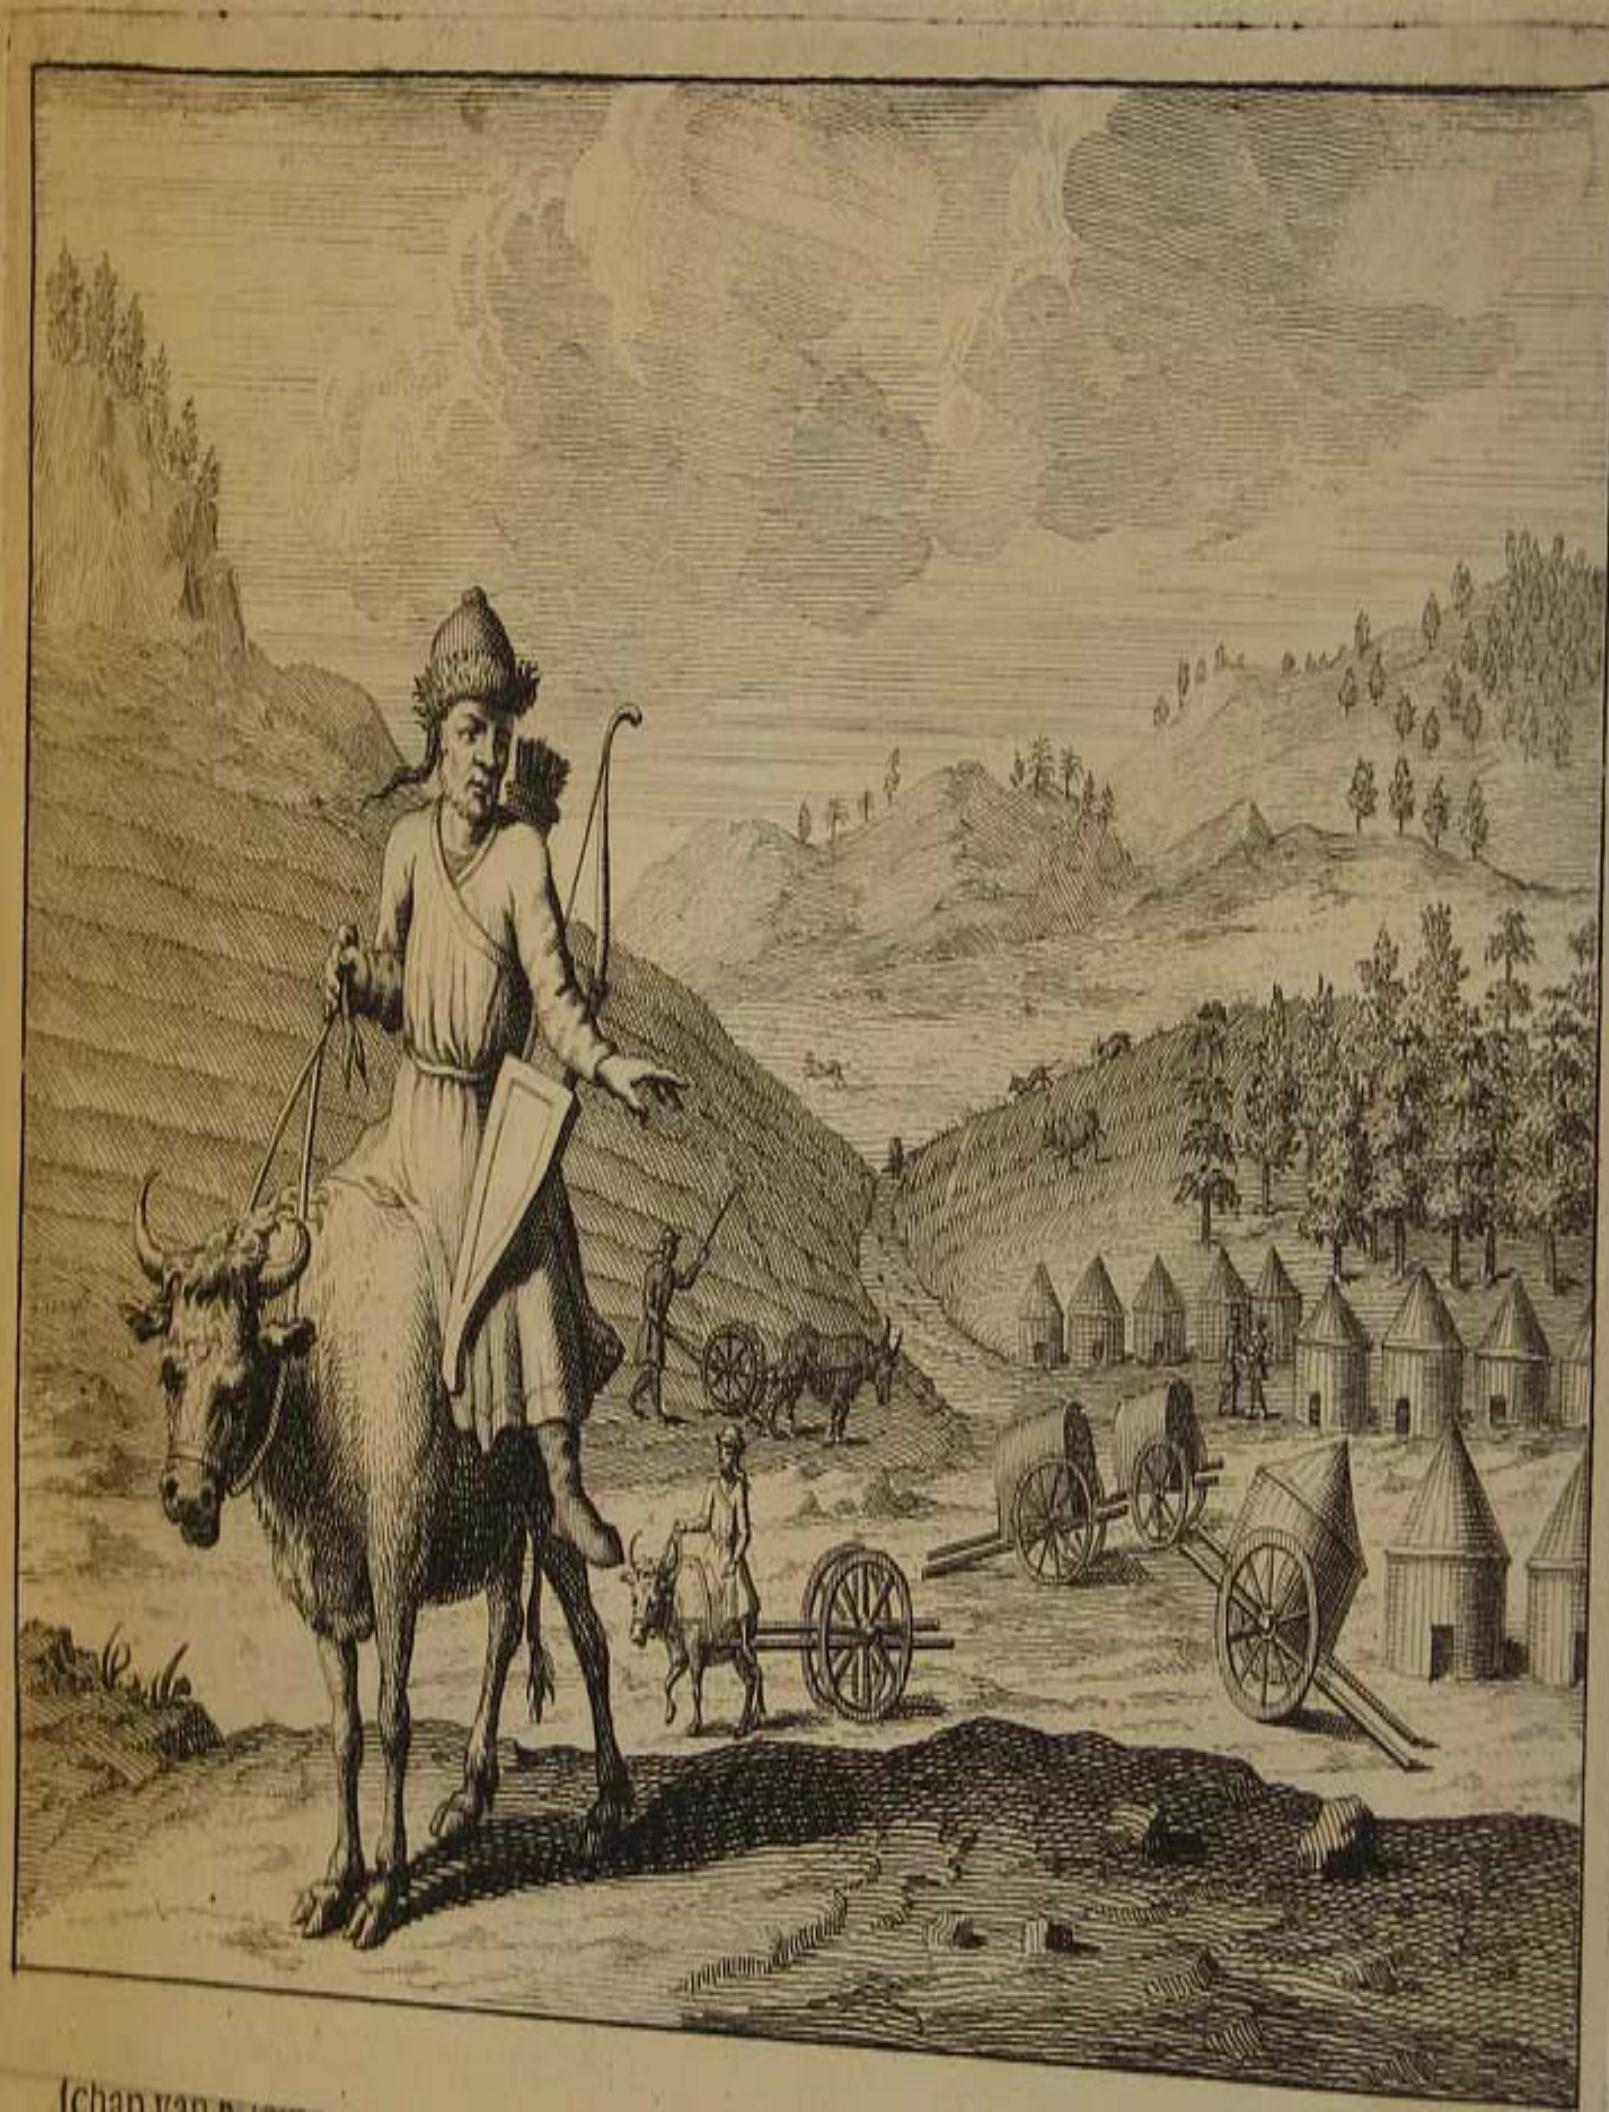

Map of Great Tartary in 1806, with its frontier with China, India and the Russian Empire. In this period most of the civilisation was in ruins, with most major cities taken over by the Russian Empire and the rest of the observed territory having been swept away by a mud flood.

NOVA TOTIUS TERRARUM ORBIS GEOGRAPHICA AC HYDROGRAPHICA TABULA.

Quando apprendemos que, havendo nascido de pais que se amaram e que dormiram na mesma cama, o resultado é que nascerá um homem que não dorme.

Wogulitsche Tarter, Vrouw en Kint .

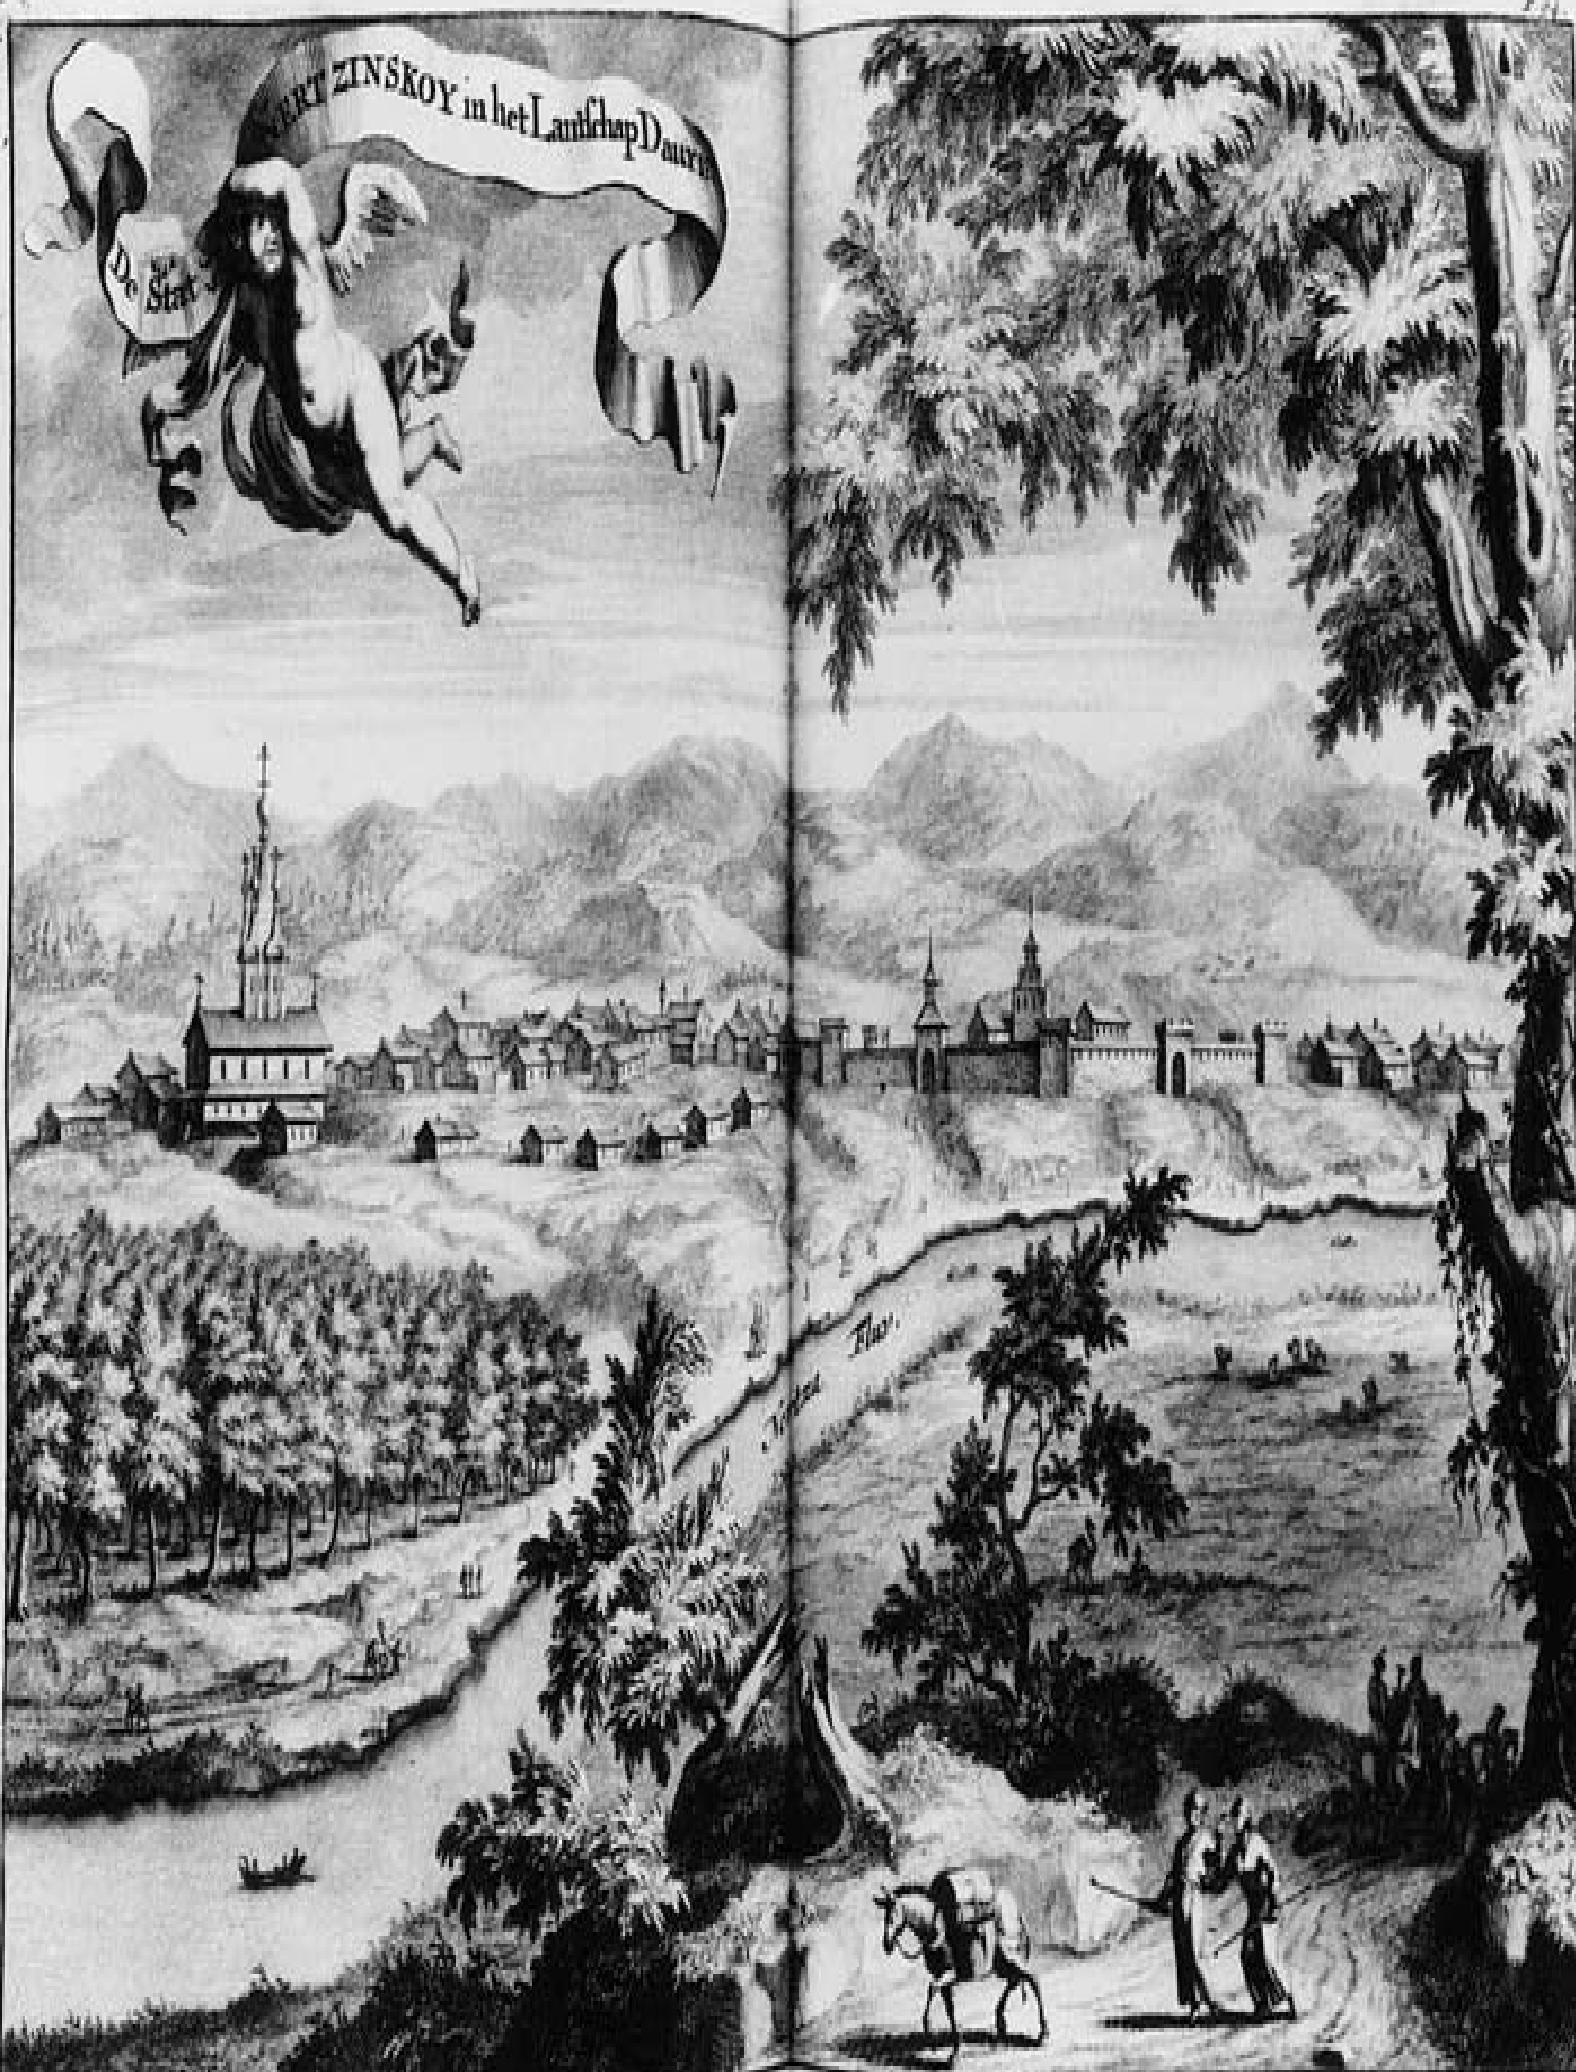

A. Kleeding der Iakuten en Zuczaren . B .der Calmacken . C .der Ostiacken en Kirgisen, en D .der Tangutsche en Daurische Volkeren .

een Schaman ofte Duyvel-priester.
in 't Tungoesen Land

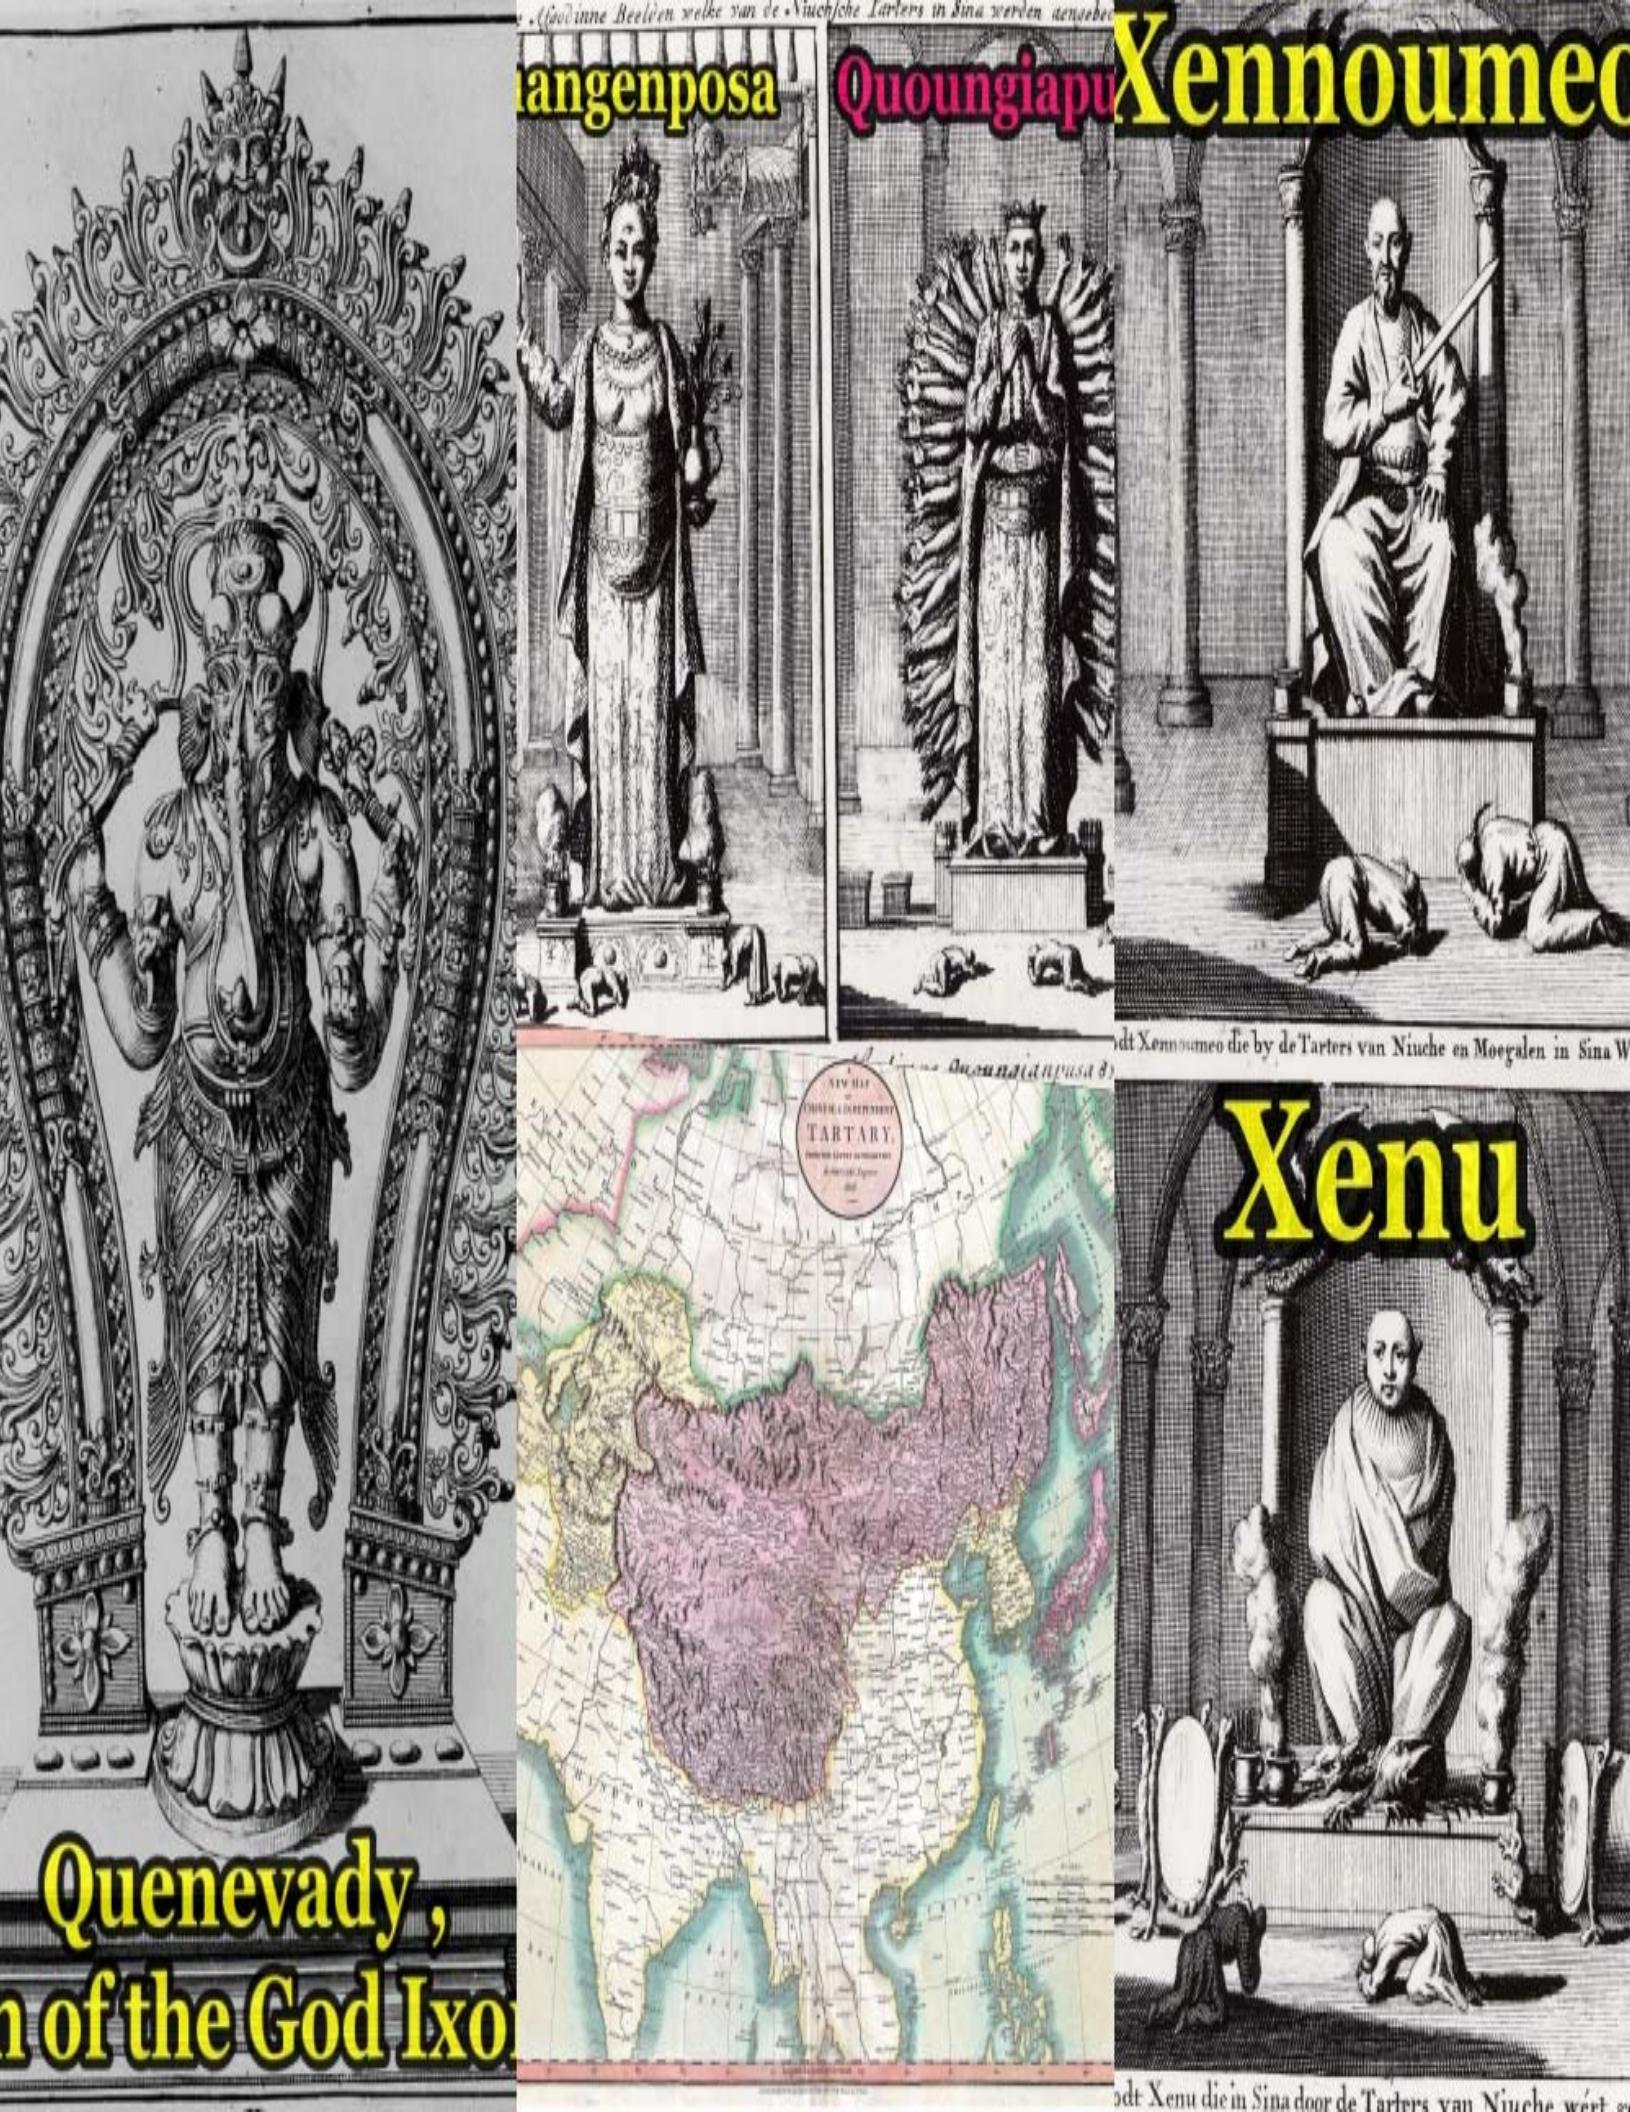

Niet haer is den Marjint. sen sijt wi't geplukt, urt gesondert aen de Keu. de Soom boven de Ploeyen is niet Bont gevoert. de Laerzen syn van Yellen het ruig buyten de Muisen van Roode Vossen de Rocken blaeuw Katoen Ringen, Penninghen en Coraelen dragen; syaende Turken

A. Nisoue Tungoefen
des Somers

B. Nisoue Tungoefen
Winter Kleding.

C. Tungoefen omtrent Irkut; Man,
Vrouw en Kinderen.

Quenevady,
Son of the God Ixo

langenposa

Quoungiapu Xennouumeo

Xenu

Bericht van SCYTHIE, nu TARTARYE:

uit het vierde boek , genoemt Melpomen , van den aerden Griekschen schrijver ITAEUS.

Afgoden Tempel jugangu.

Iki Burchan Koton of verwoeste groote afgoden stad in Tartaria

In het byzonder, zegt men van deze in de Moegaelsche Woestyne gelegen, vier puinhoopen, dat Iki Burchan Koton, of dagen reizens Oostwaerts van een andere Trimmingzing, is een oude verwoeste Stad, verwoeste plaets: in deze plaets wil men, dat

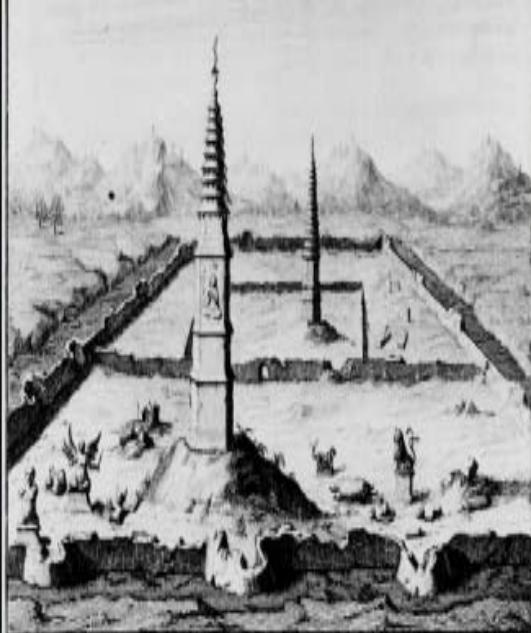

NOORD en OOST

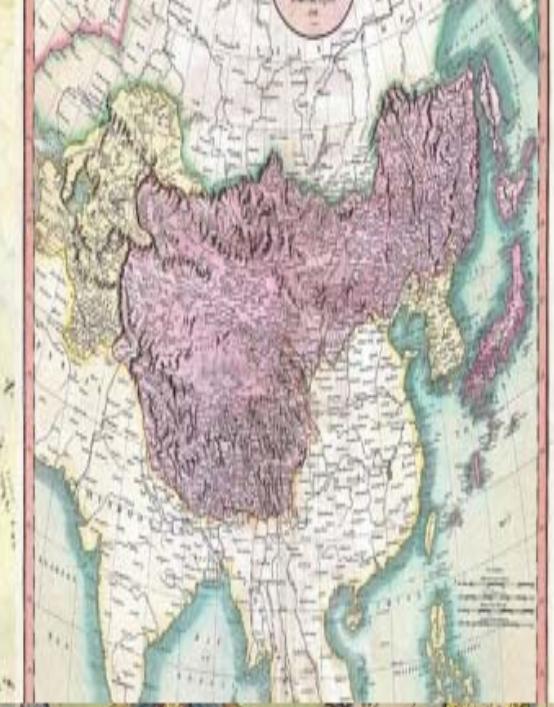

ing van de Verkeerde zyde ener oude Stael
eker graf by Vergaturia in Sibieren is gev

oudt. Beelden of Kiedische gedenken die uit oude Begraafplaatsen en oude bewerkt enige Relieken voor van de zetse zijn.

Oude Coranische gedenken uit de oude historische graven in Sib

Quenevady,
son of the God Ixora

ЖАВИКИНСКИЙ
1938

THE STORY OF THE MONGOLS WHOM WE CALL THE TARTARS

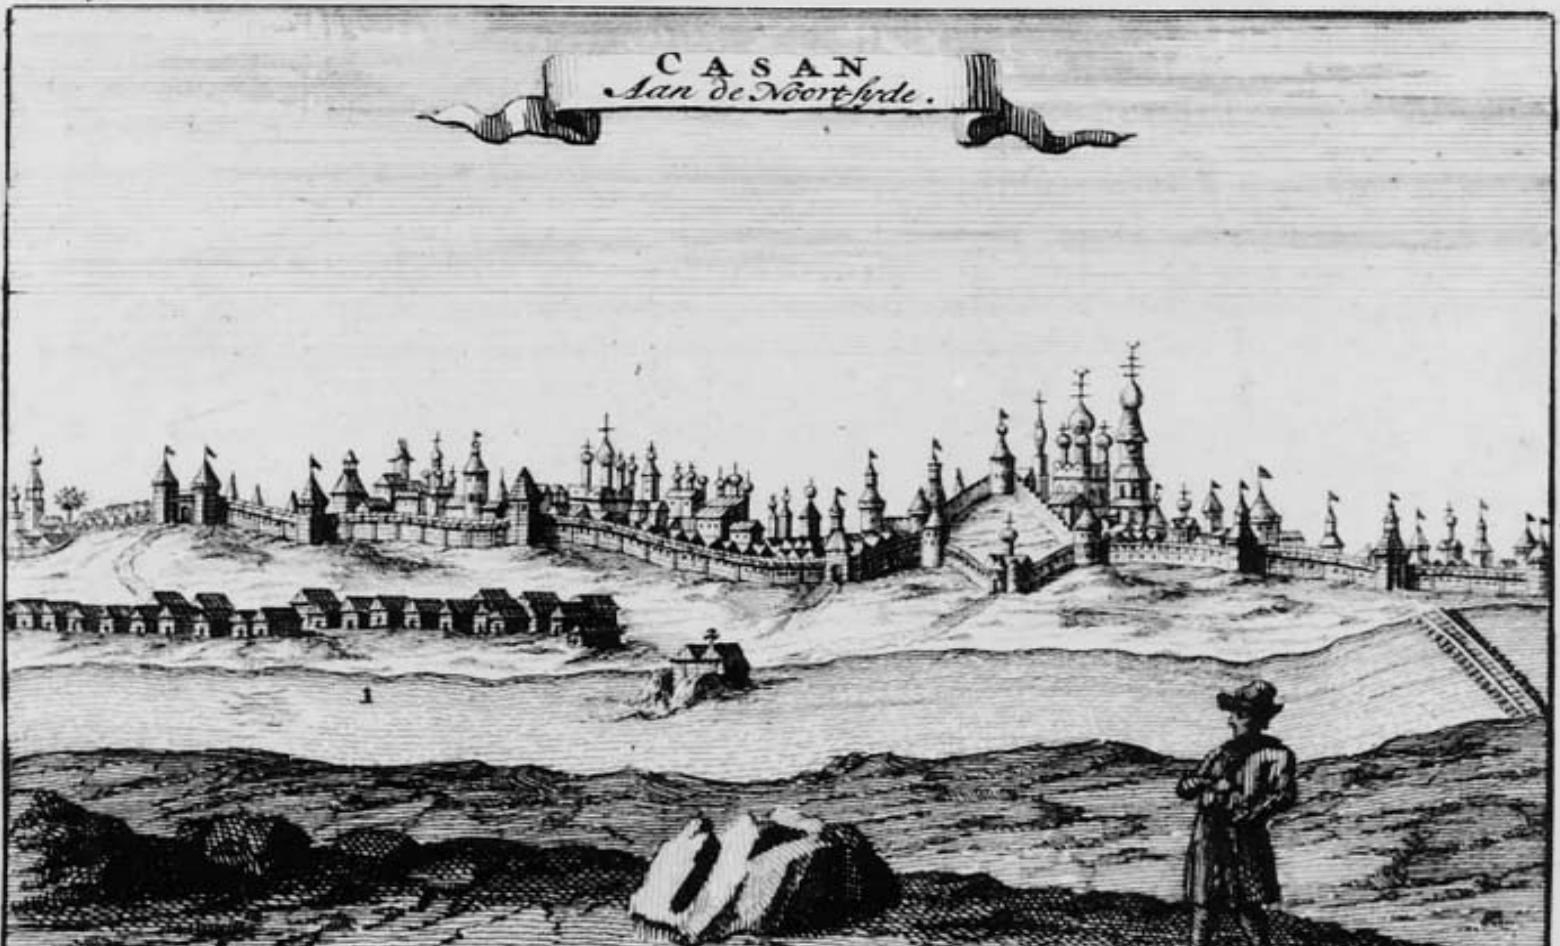

by Friar Giovanni DiPlano Carpini
Translated with an Introduction by Erik Hildinger

C A S A N
aan de West syde.

A Kerk en hof van den Metropoliet. B Des Gouverneurs huys. C De Stadt der Tartaren, die met houte muuren en staken is omheint, daar een hof in is, en wachthuys van Seremissen, ook Kerken, stoot aan't rivierken Bolak. D Voorstat. E Hoofdkerk F Een Kerk.

C A S A N
aan de Noort syde.

RUSSIA IN ASIA
AND TARTARY.

Scale Miles or 100 Km.
Scale Kilometers or 62.5 Miles.

Population
Capital
Provincial Towns
Other Towns

Leybold's Karte 1870 von Gossenick.

1 Modgadellisso Nunn 2 Modgadell Luma of priester

1. Laotung der Boor

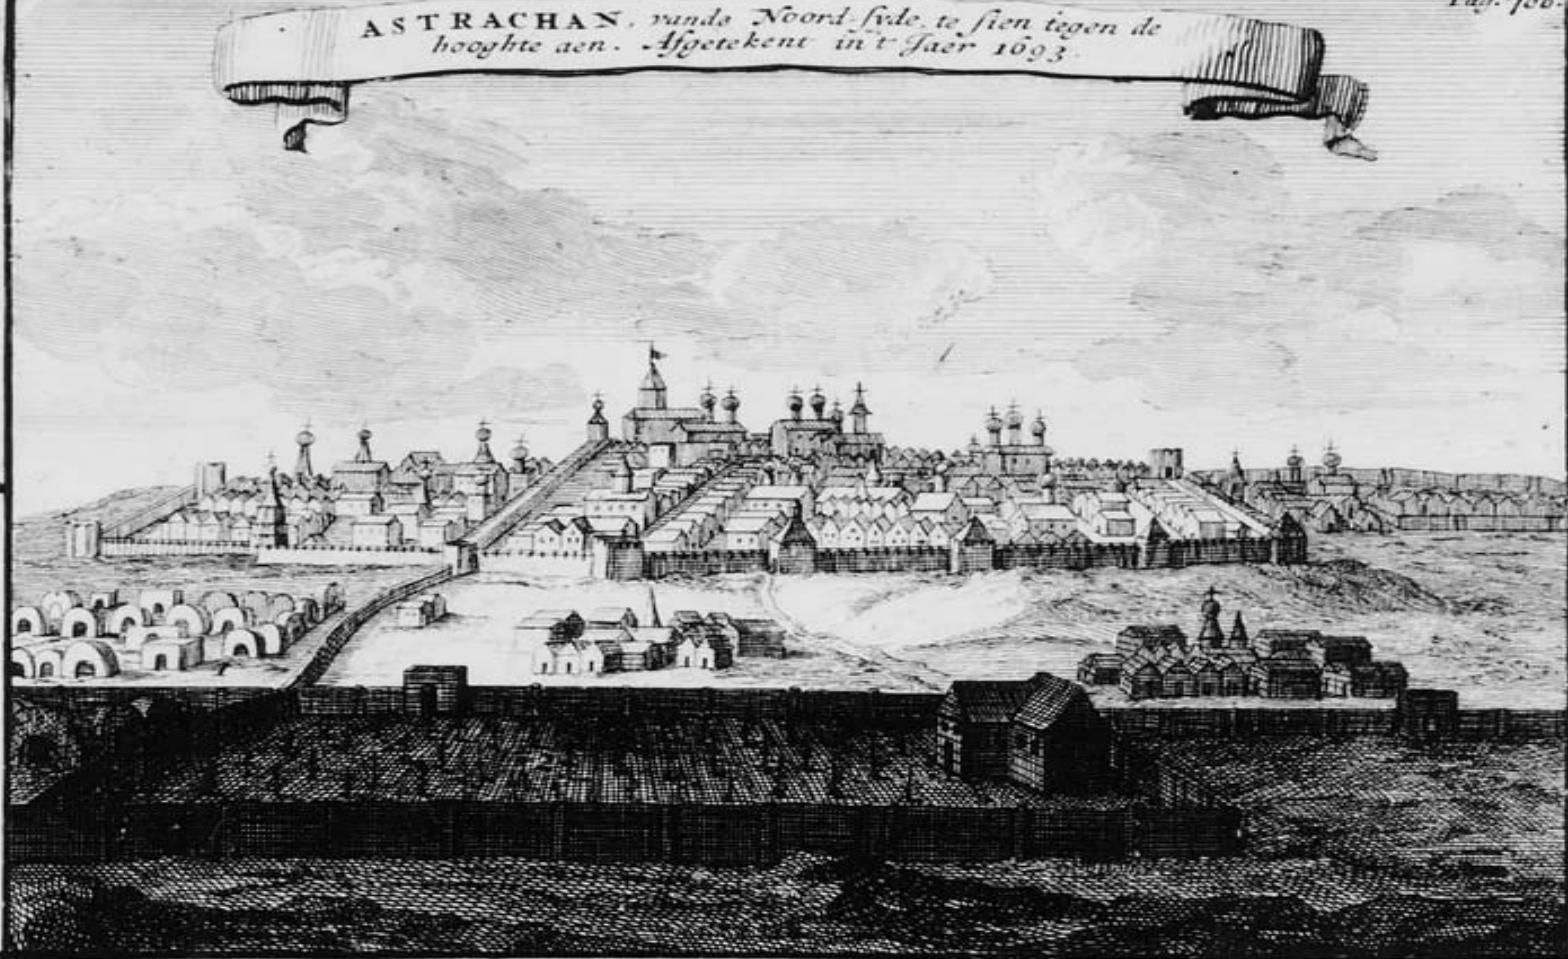

Een Naunsch of Xisigaersche Tartar, met Vrouw en Dochter.

B. Een Daurische Konnoy Tungoeser.

ASTRACHAN, vande Noord-syde te sien tegen de hoogte aen. Affgetekent in't Jaer 1693.

1. Voor-Stadt daer sic
de Tartars ophouden.

2. Des Metropoliten Wyngaert: wiens lengte is omtrent rystien-hondert ende breedte vier of ryf-hondert Schreden.

ASTRACHAN, vande Suyd-syde, op een hoek aen te sien. Affgetekent in't Jaer 1693.

3. De vhet Kotumowa.

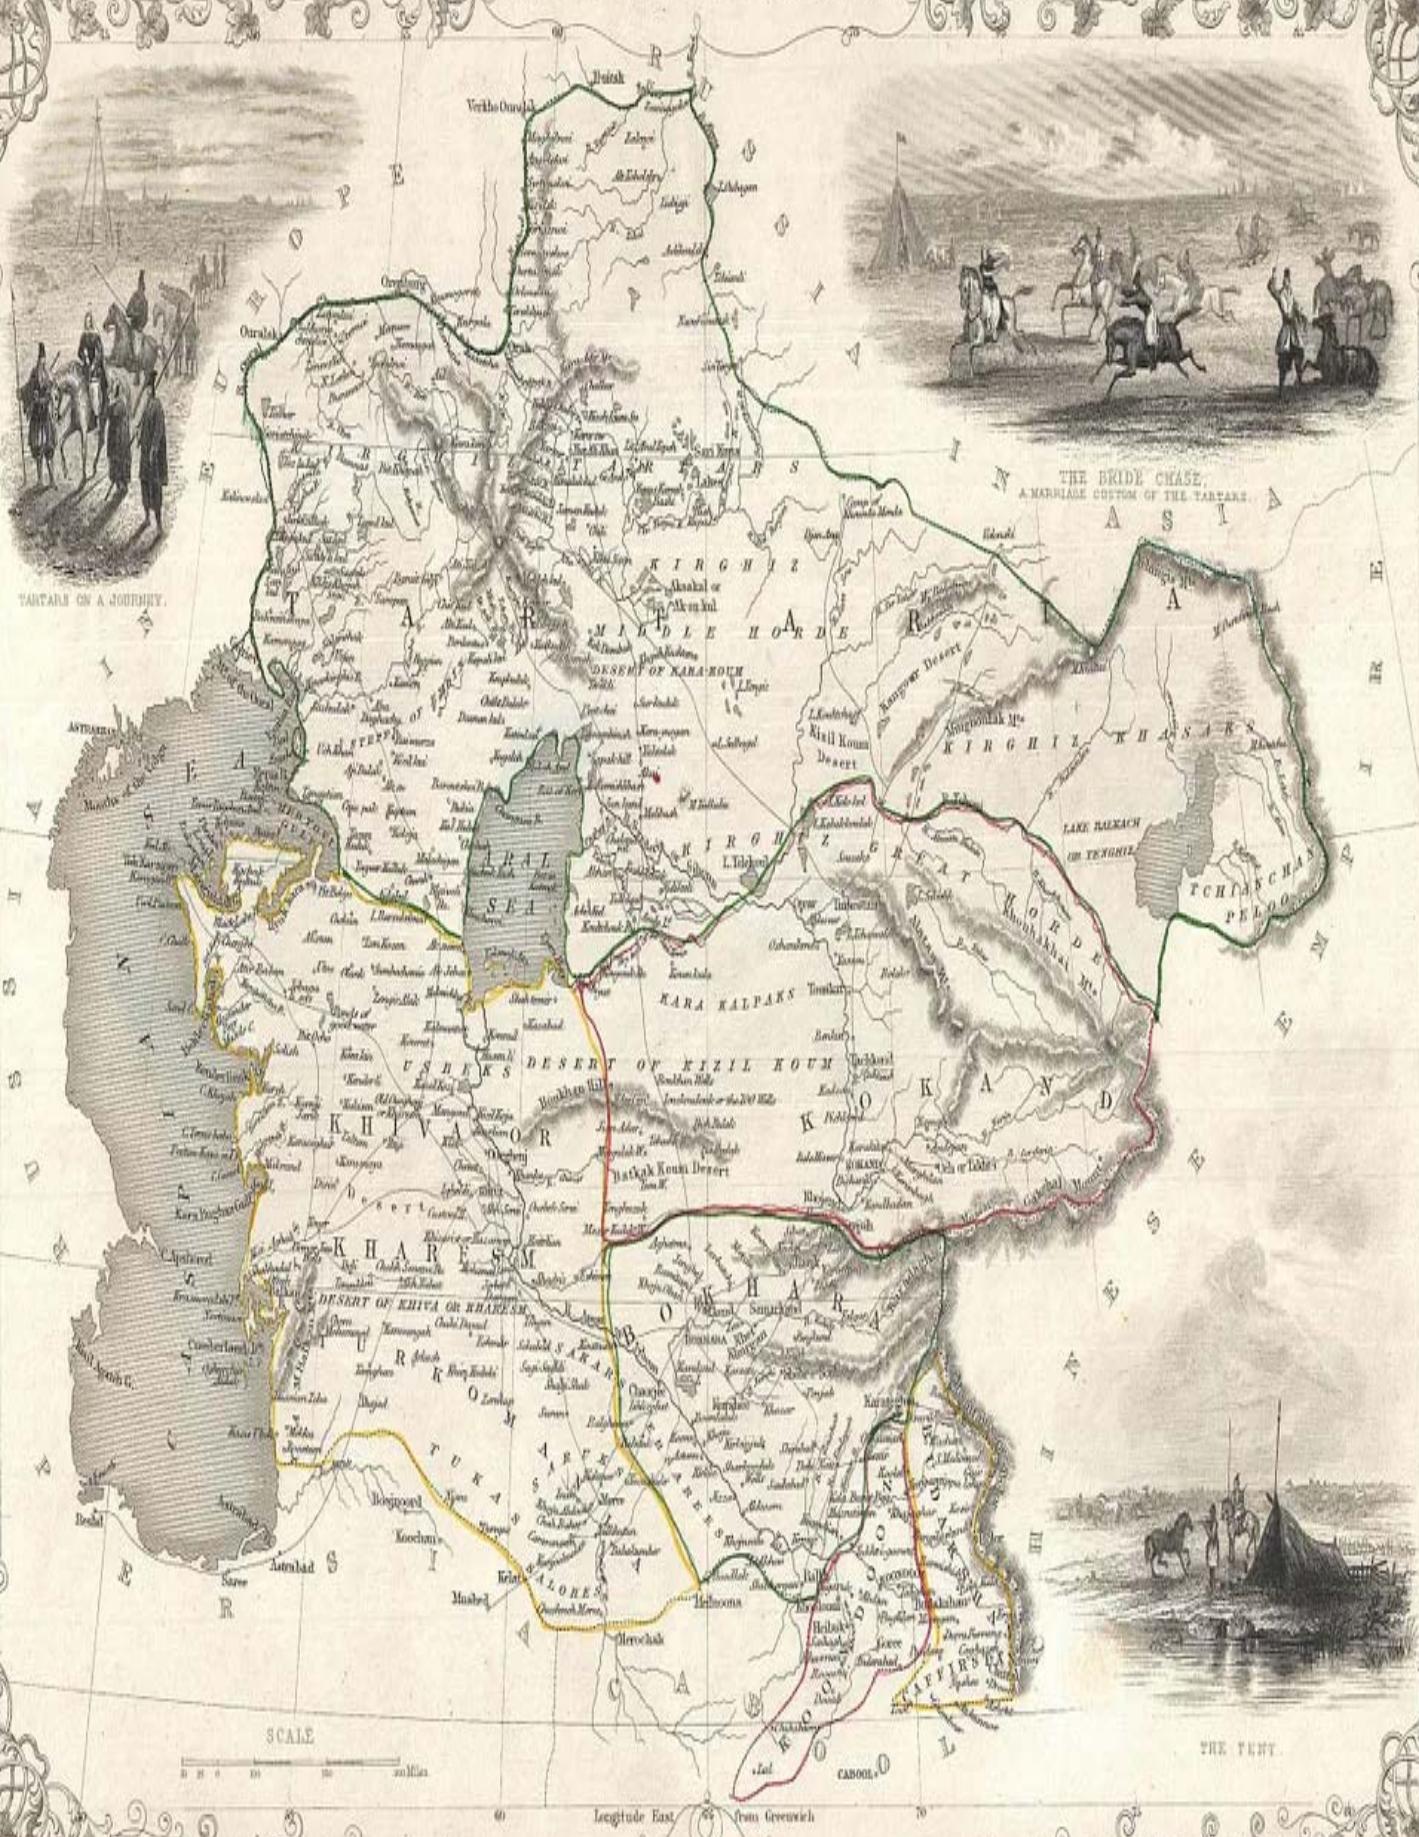

4. Visch-markt.

5. De Wolou.

INDEPENDENT TARTARY.

TARTAR ON A JOURNEY.

© @asherhoa

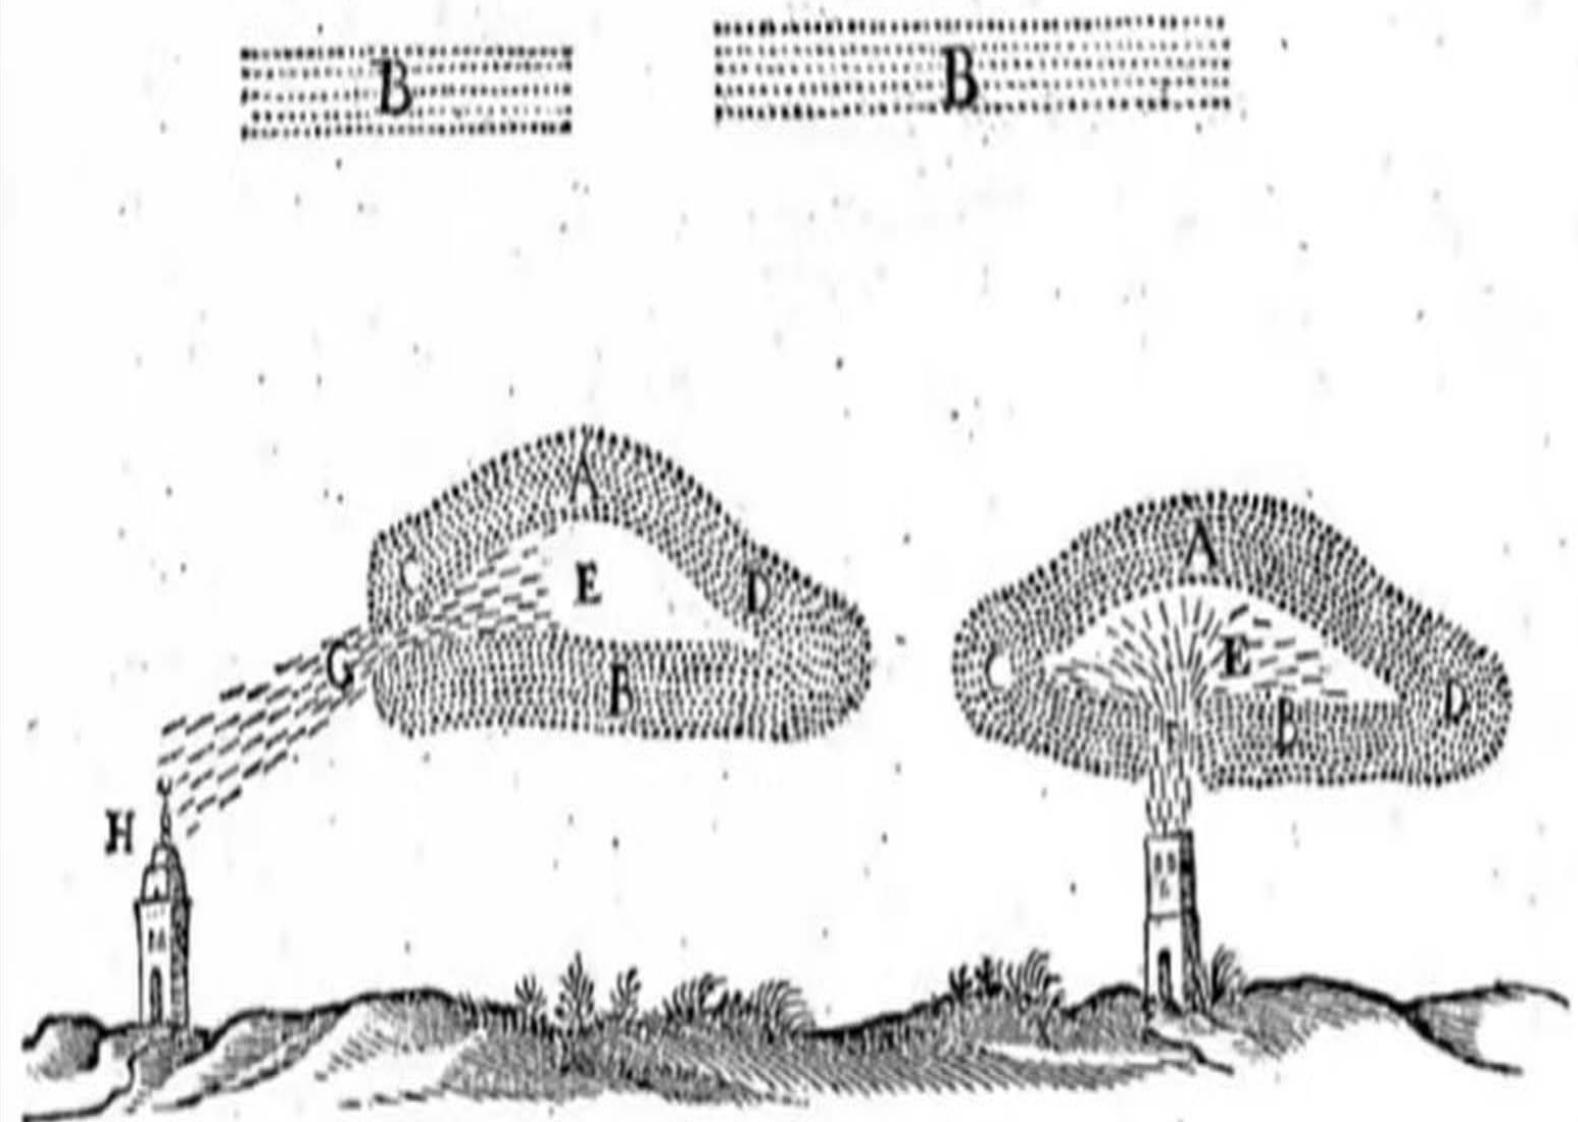

MA

Giant Swords of the Great Tartary. It is unknown if they are greatswords, or one-handed. There is also the theory that they were only ceremonial, since the size of the tartars did not exceed 4 or 5 meters high.

interceptus & conclusus, qui agitatione vehementi à vaporibus separatus & incensus, magno fragore ex earum cavitate E, per hiatum G vel F, crumpit.

Eruptio

Diagram of the operation of one of the Tartar clean energy centers. Although the way to capture the energy present in the environment is speculated, to date no way has been found to replicate the transmission of energy wirelessly, for what is believed to be lost knowledge.

Quangenposa

Quoungiapusa

Twee Afgodinne Beelden welke van de Niuchsche Tarters in Sina werden aengebeden. P:9.

Afgodin Quangenposa, 12 vadem hoog. Afgodinne Quoungianpusa 8 vadem hoog.

Den Afgodt Xennoumeo die by de Tarters van Niuche en Moegalen in Sina Wert ge éért.

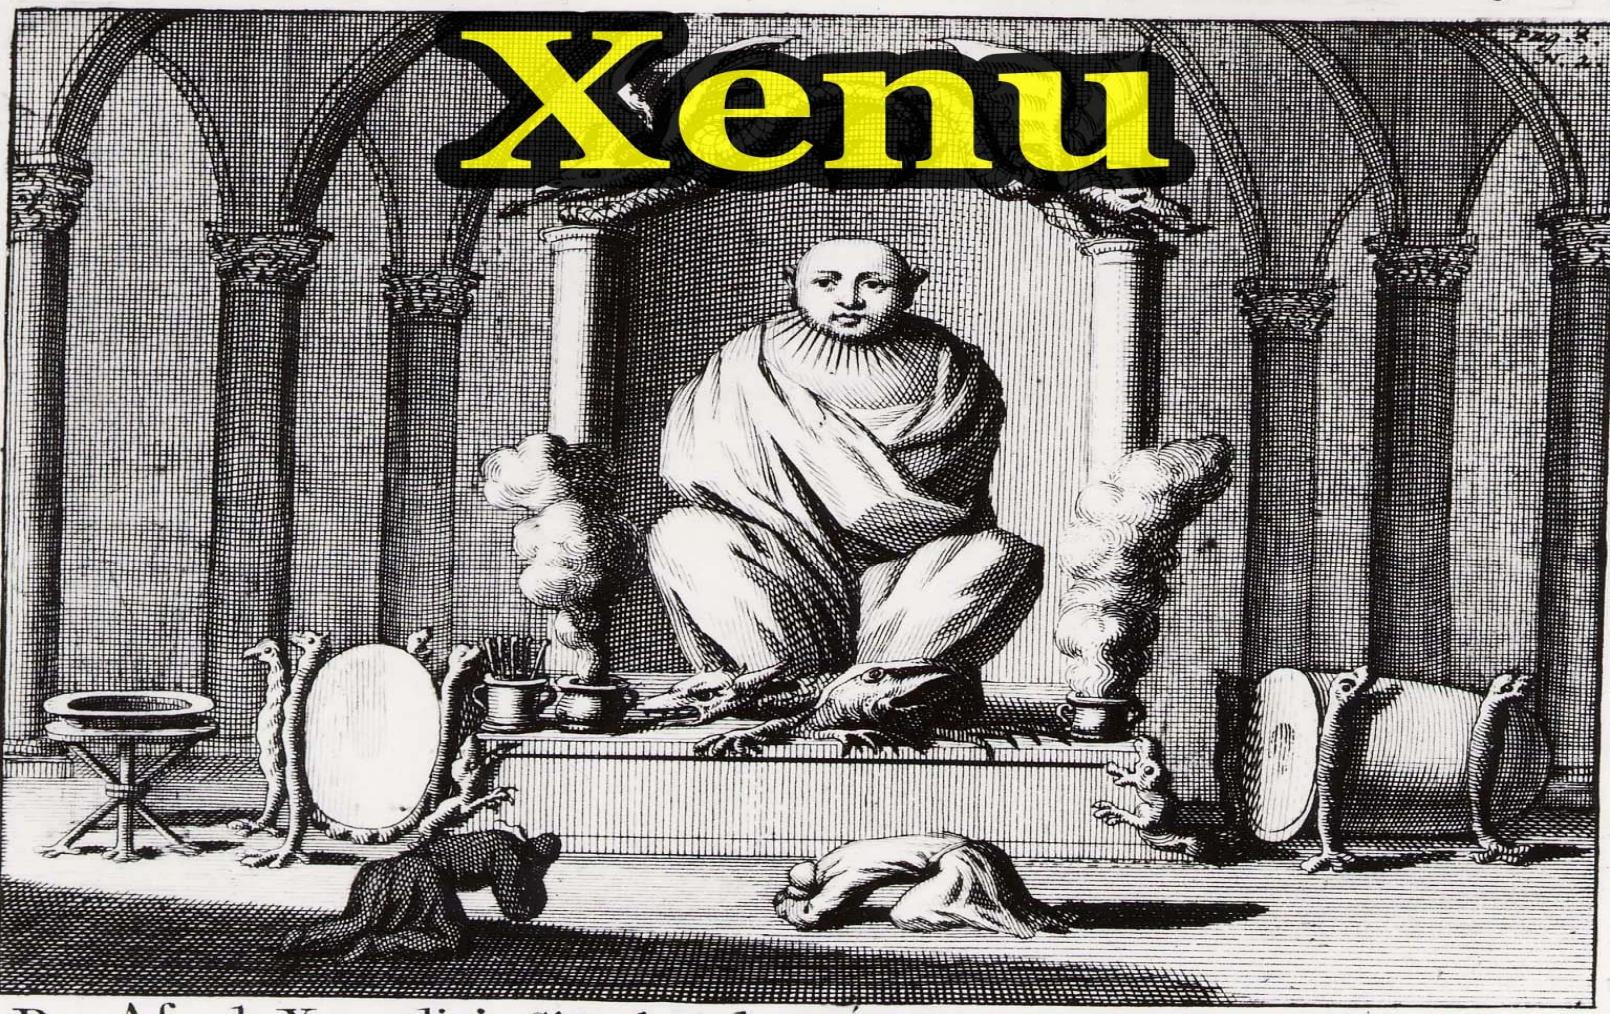

Den Afgodt Xenu die in Sina door de Tarters van Niuche wért ge éért.

Xennoumeo

Den Afgodt Xennoumeo die by de Tartars van Niuche en Moegalen in Sina Wert ge éért.

Xenu

Den Afgodt Xenu die in Sina door de Tartars van Niuche wért ge éért.

Afbeeldingh van de Verkeerde zyde ener oude Staele Spiegel, die in zeker graf by Vergaturia in Sibierien is gevonden.

Groede Tartarsche hoofdeieradenen in Sietersche grast heuerelen gevonden.

Tartersche Goude Afgoden of Heidensche gedragten die uit oude Begraefeniszen in Siberien onlangs syn gehante benerens enige Iorfcierteden van de sel'e stoffe.

Goude Cieraeden, opgedol'en uit de al oude Tartersche graven in Siberien.

9

THE TSARIST EMPIRE

RUSSIA at the beginning of the nineteenth century was a huge but backward country. The autocratic government of the Tsars forbade any kind of political activity, and crushed all attempts at popular reform, and although some Tsars attempted 'reform from above', they drew back, fearing that the reforms would get beyond their control. The main problem was that of serfdom, which enslaved most of the people, kept agriculture inefficient, and retarded the growth of a town working class necessary for industrialization. The emancipation of the serfs by Alexander II was the most important reform measure of the nineteenth century, but the terms of emancipation were so restricted that they perpetuated discontent. In the second half of the century industry grew more rapidly, and with it grew a working class that was socialistic in outlook. Russia's defeat in the Russo-Japanese War brought discontent to a head, and revolution swept the country in 1905. Although it failed to depose the Tsar, and the restricted reforms he granted brought little satisfaction, Russia's great losses in the First World War created conditions favourable for an even greater revolution.

Geography and Peoples

BACKGROUND

Russia is the largest of all countries and covers a sixth of the earth's land surface. The eastern half of Europe and the northern third of Asia make up the sprawling Russian land mass, a third of which, however, is permanently frozen. The country is extraordinarily 'open', topographically. Most of Russia's history has been made on the vast Eurasian plain, which stretches from Poland and the Baltic to the Yenisei River in central Siberia. The Ural Mountains appear to bisect this plain, but, being low and cut by easy passes, they are not a difficult barrier. Waves of migrating or invading peoples, mainly Slavs, have swept into the plain and been absorbed in its vastness, with the result that modern Russia is a 'multi-national' state of more than 200,000,000 people. Among these have been identified some 180 distinct nationalities, 125 languages or dialects, and over 40 religions. But Slavs account for three-quarters of the population, and the religion of most of them is Eastern or Orthodox Christianity. The largest Slav group is the 'Great Russians', who, with 105,000,000, are just over half of the whole population. The two other large Slav groups are the Ukrainians or 'Little Russians', and the Belorussians or 'White Russians'. After the Slavs, people of Turco-Tartar origin form the largest part, but are barely 10 per cent. of the whole.

The Moscow Princes Defeat the Tartars and Found an Empire

The first purely Slav State arose at the end of the ninth century around

CH. IX]

Kiev. It lasted until the thirteenth century, when the Tartar 'Golden Horde' swept across the steppe from Mongolia. For two and a half centuries the Tartar overlords extracted tribute from the Russian people. They extinguished much of Russia's town life with its industry and commerce, condemning her to remain agrarian. Worst of all, they cut her off from western Europe just when the great period of Renaissance progress was beginning. Deprived of the commercial, technological and humanist advances of western Europe, Russia took a despotic course.

The Tartars befriended the princes of Moscow because they were zealous in squeezing tribute from the people. With Tartar support, these princes steadily extended their Muscovite state. And when at length the Tartar Empire weakened, a Moscow Prince, Ivan the Great (1462-1505), attacked the Tartars, completed the unification of an empire based on Moscow, and became the first of the long line of Russian despots. The ruler of Moscow assumed the title 'Tsar', a Russian form of 'Caesar'.

His prestige was heightened by the support of the Church. Christianity had come to Russia in the tenth century in Orthodox form from Constantinople, and when in 1453 that capital fell to the Moslem Turks, the Russian Church became a national church very dependent on the support of the Russian Government.

The Organization of Absolutism; Serfs, Nobles, and Civil Service

Most of the Russian people were serfs. There were thousands of revolts against serfdom, but serfdom remained, and reached its greatest severity in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Serfs were denied all right of protest against maltreatment, and merciless flogging was common; more extreme punishment was by Siberian exile or long service in the army, and serfs were at times even sold as slaves.

The Tsars strove to be absolute monarchs, but the nobles often challenged their absolutism. After the old nobles had largely destroyed each other in a civil war (1584-1613), a new nobility rose from the ranks of landowning gentry, state officials and army officers. They were easily controlled by Peter the Great (1689-1725), whose immense task of government brought into being the world's largest and most cumbersome civil service. Peter, with accustomed thoroughness, pressed the entire nobility and gentry into state service as civil servants or military officers. His rigid system bred conformism and lack of initiative rather than the precision and efficiency he desired. After his death, the gentry and nobility tried to end the obligations he had laid upon them. They succeeded in having their service obligations abolished and were able, if they chose, to assume fully the role of a landowning leisure class, though many pressures continued to draw numbers of them into the state service.

Domestic and Foreign Problems of Catherine's Russia

Catherine the Great (1762-96) was frightened by a massive serf revolt of 1774 and felt driven to secure the active support of the land-

A
NEW MAP
OF
CHINESE & INDEPENDENT
TARTARY,
FROM THE LATEST AUTHORITIES.

By JOHN CART, Engraver

1806.

Or let us take the matter of history, which, along with religion, language and literature, constitute the core of a people's cultural heritage. Here again the Communists have interfered in a shameless manner. For example, on 9 August 1944, the Central Committee of the Communist Party, sitting in Moscow, issued a directive ordering the party's Tartar Provincial Committee "to proceed to a scientific revision of the history of Tartaria, to liquidate serious shortcomings and mistakes of a nationalistic character committed by individual writers and historians in dealing with Tartar history."<sup>12</sup> In other words, Tartar history was to be rewritten--let us be frank, was to be falsified--in order to eliminate references to Great Russian aggressions and to hide the facts of the real course of Tartar-Russian relations. And this was no isolated case. In every Muslim area within the USSR, historians, on orders of the Communist Party, have rewritten history to distort the facts so that the Russians appear always in a good light. Needless to say, histories which present the facts truthfully have been withdrawn and destroyed, so that the present and future generations of Muslims are forever denied the chance of learning the true facts of their nations' past.

This is an excerpt of the declassified CIA document created in 1957.
The declassified CIA document about Tartaria was declassified in 1998.

(Source: <https://www.cia.gov/library>)

Bibliography

Primary Sources & Maps

- Ortelius, Abraham. Theatrum Orbis Terrarum (1570) – David Rumsey Collection
- Mercator, Gerard. Maps of Tartary (1630s editions)
- Speed, John. A Prospect of the Most Famous Parts of the World (1627)
- Homann, Johann Baptist. Atlas Geographicus (1720s–1740s)
- Bowen, Emanuel. Maps of Great Tartary (1740s–1760s)

Secondary Sources & Research

- Charles Loring Brace. The Dangerous Classes of New York (1872) – on orphan trains
- Tesla, Nikola. “The Problem of Increasing Human Energy” (Century Magazine, 1900)
- Plauson, Hermann. “Production of Electrical Energy from Atmospheric Sources” (1920s patents)

Scriptural & Theological

- Holy Bible (King James Version or preferred translation)
- Josephus, Flavius. Antiquities of the Jews (on Nimrod & Babel)
- Commentaries: Matthew Henry, John Gill, Charles Spurgeon (on Genesis 6–11, Isaiah 44, Revelation 18)

Online Archives

- archive.org (search: “Tartary”, “mud flood”, “orphan train”)
- davidrumsey.com (historical maps)
- loc.gov (Library of Congress photos & maps)

Final Note

This book is not the final word. It is a call to love the truth (2 Thessalonians 2:10) and test everything (1 Thessalonians 5:21). The evidence presented — maps, photographs, patents, historical anomalies — deserves honest examination. But the ultimate authority is Scripture. If any claim in these pages contradicts the Word of God, discard it. If it aligns with and illuminates God's truth, hold it fast.

The matrix is real. Deception is widespread. But Jesus Christ is the Truth (John 14:6). He has already overcome the world (John 16:33). The remnant is called to stand, pray, worship, and wait for His return.

May this book encourage you to seek Him more deeply, to come out of Babylon (Revelation 18:4), and to look for the blessed hope — the appearing of the glory of our great God and Savior, Christ Jesus (Titus 2:13).

Come, Lord Jesus. (Revelation 22:20)

ஆழைன்.

The End